FRANCE DIVIDED ON LEAGUE SANCTIONS ISSUE

MUSSOLINI NOT BLUFFING

DIPLOMATS SEEKING MIDDLE COURSE

BUT LABOUR INSISTS ON STRONG STAND

Paris, Aug. 26.

Those in France and elsewhere, but especially in Britain, who imagine that Mussolini is bluffing, will be forced to admit they are wrong after reading Mussolini's declaration to the Daily Mail. This is the view expressed in semi-official circles.

If Duce has said, these authorities continue, that if sanctions are voted against Italy she will immediately leave the League and that whoever applies them will be met by Italy's armed hostility. The Italian attitude, say the French, lends support to the argument of Paris diplomats, who deprecate recourse to sanctions.

The French policy remains: no stone shall be left unturned by France in trying to localise the conflict and maintain as far as possible a friendly understanding between Paris, London and Rome. Above all it is the aim of French statesmen to prevent the spreading of the inevitable hostilities in Africa to Europe, this source asserts.

Labour has a different view of the case. "The whole Covenant, and nothing but the Covenant," is the slogan of these organisations. A mixed committee representing the International Syndical Federation of Socialist Workers' International has confirmed the resolution demanding that the League Covenant and peace treaties shall be respected in every part. The resolution supports the ultimate imposition of sanctions against Italy if she makes war upon Abyssinia.

This powerful French organisation has appealed to all kindred bodies to organise demonstrations in France and abroad.—Reuter.

ITALY'S CASE

Rome, Aug. 26.
The Government is now preparing a detailed statement of the Italian case against Abyssinia to present to the League Council. The Council meets on September 4.

Official quarters are reticent regarding the reason for calling an extraordinary meeting of the Council at Bolzano, stating that only administrative questions will be discussed, and that the Ethiopian and other questions of national importance will not be introduced. But it would be in keeping with Mussolini's sense of the dramatic that he should make some pronouncement regarding his intentions in Ethiopia while surrounded by his troops in North Italy.

He will be at Bolzano in connection with the great army manoeuvres to be held on the north frontiers.—Reuter.

ITALY'S EVIDENCE

Rome, Aug. 26.
It is understood that Mussolini's memorandum to the League will be an enormous document, detailing alleged Ethiopian hostility and aggression over a long period of years, together with photographs.—Reuter.

REPORT ON MANOEUVRES

Bolzano, Aug. 26.
Signor Mussolini to-day received General Balotelli, the Under-Secretary for War, who reported upon the progress of the manoeuvres on the frontier.

He said the morale of the troops was excellent. They were working most efficiently, especially in the mechanized mobile divisions.

The King of Italy arrived at the "front" before dawn to-day. He stopped his car several times to question officers and had long

SEEKING JAPANESE SYMPATHY

STRONG ITALIAN PLEA

PARALLEL COURSES

Rome, Aug. 26.

A striking plea for Italian-Japanese understanding was made to-day in the Giro d'Italia, commenting on the telegram sent from Tokyo to the effect that public opinion was coming round to a better understanding of the Italian viewpoint with regard to Ethiopia.

The paper declares it is impossible for Italy and Japan to be at loggerheads in view of the fact that their development is along similar lines. Both need new territory so the growing populations can expand and find natural riches denied them at home.

Both found the door shut to them after the Great War, and both found themselves faced with the resistance of the League of Nations, which denied them the right to fulfil the needs of a dynamic population.

The identical nature of the Italian and Japanese problems must lead the nations to political solidarity, the paper pursues the theme; they must be united against opposing forces. Italy's action in Ethiopia would in no way interfere with the interests of Japan because Italy seeks in Ethiopia only security, and territorial expansion to work and trade with civilised nations, and not monopolies and closed doors. Still less would these doors be closed for reasons of race.—Reuter.

NOT HANDLING CARGO

Seattle, Aug. 26.

The Longshoremen's Union to-day announced that a coast-wide poll had voted 8,388 to 1,319 in favour of renewing the present contract. However, the union voted 5,201 to 4,739 to refuse to handle cargo loaded by strike-breakers in British Columbia.—United Press.

Naval Views Show Wide Divergence

U.S. INACTIVE IN CONVERSATIONS

JAPANESE DEMANDS

(Special to "Telegraph")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1931. Received, August 27, 5.30 a.m.)

Washington, Aug. 26.

Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, to-day asserted that the United States is playing an inactive role in the diplomatic exchanges involving naval affairs, having no information regarding the British or Japanese proposals. Mr. Hull said while there had been the usual informal references to naval matters, there had been no formal communications either from Britain or Japan.

Other well-informed quarters here, acknowledging the wide divergence between the Japanese, British and American standpoints, express doubt as to whether any naval talk will be held in London in the near future if the Japanese insist on recognition of their parity demands which have been advanced as the basis of discussions.—Reuter Special.

London, Aug. 26.
The Japanese Embassy has received Japan's answer to Britain's memorandum of August 5 suggesting a preliminary Five-Power Naval Conference in London during October.

It is understood that the Japanese answer reiterates Japan's demand for tonnage parity with Britain and America; hence the plans for a preliminary talk are apparently jeopardised.

Observers in Washington understand that there is scant chance of the United States participating in any conversations in the near future. It is understood that London has not asked the United States to re-state its naval position, due to the fact that the American position in regard to policy regarding the present ratios is well known.—United Press.

"WE DIE IF HELP NOT SENT"

FOUR MEN TRAPPED IN ARCTIC OCEAN

DESPERATE APPEAL

Copenhagen, Aug. 26.

A dramatic wireless distress call out of the Arctic—"We die if help not sent"—has been received here.

It comes, it is believed, from four men adrift in an open boat in the Far North sea, without food or fuel. They are a cinema photographer, a wireless operator and two seal-hunters.

The four men wintered in North-east Greenland and should have returned to the more hospitable coast this summer. However, they were unable to reach the "outside" in time to catch the relief ship sent to meet them. The relief ship, moreover, was held back by ice.

A few days ago the men left the seal-hunters' station in an attempt to make their way through open water to the vicinity of the relief ship. They are now stranded in by rotten ice, unable to move one way or another, and which is worse, unable to travel over the ice. They are literally imprisoned in a semi-frozen ocean.

RESCUE EFFORTS

It is reported that the British expedition ship, Quest, which is off the coast of Greenland, somewhere in the vicinity of the lost travellers, will make an effort to reach them.

The Danish Government has sent a seaplane out to hunt for them and a Norwegian trawler is trying to establish communications.—Reuter.

Mr. William C. Bullitt, U.S. Ambassador to Moscow, who has presented a sharp note of protest to the Soviet regarding revolutionary propaganda, is here seen with his little daughter, Ann.

Kidnappers Carry Away Young Girl

MERCEDES RIBEIRO MYSTERY

CAR DRIVER'S STORY

A mysterious telephone message received by the father of the girl in the early hours of this morning, told of the kidnapping of a Portuguese girl, named Mercedes Ribeiro, aged 17 years, who left her home at 126 Lockhart Road, Wanchai, to attend the 9 p.m. performance at the Oriental Theatre last night and has not since returned.

It was at 1.30 a.m. to-day that Mr. Ribeiro received the message from a man who gave his name as Yam, driver of motor-car No. 1259. This man stated that the girl had been kidnapped by several Chinese dressed in European-style clothing. He gave no further information.

The police, to whom the incident has been reported, believe that the sender of the telephone message is Yam Hoi, registered driver of the car mentioned. Neither he nor his car have so far been located, and it is thought that the car was used in kidnapping the girl.

The missing girl, who is of medium height and build, with bobbed hair, was wearing a black and white lined Chinese long dress and white high-heeled shoes when she left home, and was also carrying a white handbag and black umbrella.

In London, silver prices declined 1/8th yesterday. America bought, while India and China operated both ways, the market closing steady.

In New York, silver declined a quarter.

Congress Impasse Remains

STILL BLOCKING ADJOURNMENT

ROOSEVELT AT WORK

(Special to "Telegraph")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1931. Received, August 27, 4 a.m.)

Washington, Aug. 26.

The Senate met at noon to-day and then went into recess until 5 p.m. Meanwhile President Roosevelt was in conference with Senators Byrnes, Harrison, Connally, Smith and Black. Later he was in conference with the Secretary of the Treasury, the Administrator of the A.A.A. and Mr. Paul Porter, the A.A.A. expert.

The House of Representatives met at noon also and passed a resolution to adjourn by midnight. This, however, is meaningless unless the Senate concurs.

There was some talk of passing the third Deficiency Bill without the mandatory cotton and wheat loans, with the Administration promising to take up the question of the loans in the January session if the farmers are distressed.

However, the Speaker of the House, Mr. Joseph W. Byrnes, insisted that the mandatory loans would result in a further loss of world markets by the United States and simultaneously accumulate a surplus which would hang over the domestic market.

The Senate agrarians insisted that the Deficiency Bill containing the Social Security appropriation would not be passed unless the mandatory wheat and cotton loans were also included.

It is worthy of note that the deadlock over this question is the sole remaining barrier before immediate adjournment.—United Press.

HOUSE ADJOURNS

Washington, Aug. 26.

The House of Representatives passed a resolution adjourning sine die.

President Roosevelt is conferring with cotton Senators in an attempt to work out a formula which it is hoped will end opposition to the cotton loan and permit both Houses to adjourn as soon as possible. The Senate went into recess for five hours pending negotiations with the leaders of the House to implement the President's talks with the Senators.—Reuter.

BRITISH SCHOOL PROGRESS

REORGANISATION IN HAND

London, Aug. 26.
According to the report of the Board of Education, just issued, the total number of children attending public elementary schools last year was 5,676,762, and there were 448,421 in secondary schools.

Steady progress has been made with the reorganisation of the elementary school system, which has been proceeding for some years on the lines of the Hadow Report on the Education of the Adolescent, which has been accepted as the policy of the Board, and considerable progress has also been made during the year by local authorities in the replacement of old and the provision of new premises.

During the last nine months of 1934, the Board approved building proposals involving capital expenditure of £4,449,212, which is greater by £885,678 than the total approved for the full financial year 1933-1934.—British Wireless.

STRONG FEELING AGAINST SOVIET

NO BENEFITS FROM RECOGNITION

MOSCOW SILENT AFTER NOTE DELIVERED

(SPECIAL TO "TELEGRAPH")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1931. Received, Aug. 27, 8 a.m.)

Washington, Aug. 26.

It is considered that the note of protest sent to Russia yesterday, with respect to the activities of the Comintern directed against American institutions, is one of the most sharply worded since the United States ended its relations with the Central Powers in 1917.

It is noteworthy that recognition of the Soviet Government by the United States was expected to bring to America orders for heavy industry products, that it might help in the settlement of American claims against the Russian Government, that in Russia America might find in the Far East a powerful "friend in need," and that recognition would provide for official Soviet supervision and control of Communist activities within the United States.

Actually no huge commercial orders have materialised, there has been no settlement of the Russian debt, there is no assurance that Russia would be a friend in the Far East if needed, and there has been no check upon anti-American political activities. Speeches and resolutions, aiming at the fostering and nourishing of a revolution in the United States, which have featured the meeting of the Comintern in Moscow, are considered the last straw which must break the back of American patience.

PAPERS SILENT

Moscow, Aug. 26.

M. Maxim Litvinoff, the Foreign Affairs Commissar, is absent from the capital, and no official statement from the Government is forthcoming respecting the American note of protest. The newspapers have not carried a word of the protest.

The Foreign Office declines to make even an informal statement of reaction and refused to predict when a reply could be expected.—United Press.

AMBASSADOR'S ANSWER

Washington, Aug. 26.

M. Troianovsky, the Russian Ambassador here, said Moscow would reply satisfactorily to the American protest note. He expressed the personal opinion, however, that "anything that American citizens in Moscow say about the United States is insignificant compared with the propaganda in the United States against the Soviet."—United Press.

UNION PLEASED

New York, Aug. 26.

The president of the Longshoremen's Union, Mr. Joseph P. Ryan, applauded the American protest to the Soviet. "Unless," he said, "we act soon, it is likely we shall have to use firearms to expel Communists from the American Labour movement, before they upset it." He said Communists had filtered into the Army and Navy and had practically wrecked the fur workers' union.—United Press.

total reached 5,684,234, against 3,830,609.

Still more recent statistics, referring to May this year, show an increase of 70 per cent., as compared with the similar period in 1934, in the number of Empire air passengers passing through Croydon Airport.

During the most recent twelve months for which figures are available—March 31, 1934, to April 1, 1935—air liners of Imperial Airways operating on European and Empire routes flew 2,482,864 miles and carried 55,558 passengers and over 2,000,000 pounds of mails and freight.—British Wireless.

ETHIOPIA EXODUS

LEAVING ADDIS ABABA

Paris, Aug. 26.

Apparently prompted by the continued exodus of foreigners from Abyssinia, the Bank of Ethiopia has announced the suspension of the sale of foreign currency sine die, according to a French report from Addis Ababa.

Departures from Addis Ababa are occurring daily.

The Italian Legation continues to remove its archives and the foreign shop-keepers are making inventories of their goods, which they are communicating to their respective Legations.

Meanwhile, the Emperor of Ethiopia has decided to create a Legation in the inmates of Yemen, across the Red Sea.—Reuter.

AIR TRAFFIC INCREASES

IMPERIAL AIRWAYS FIGURES

London, Aug. 26.

The continued rapid increase of air traffic is shown by figures for passengers, freight, mails and services.

Comparing the first quarters of this year and last, the passenger miles were 544,885, against 307,033; freight ton miles were 127,213, against 67,811; and mails ton miles were 289,425, against 185,056, while the passenger miles

Warning Devices For H.K. Air Raids

REPORT BY POLICE RECOMMENDS USE IN FUTURE

A recommendation that efficient warning devices are necessary in Hongkong as one of the precautions to be observed in the event of an air raid on the Colony is contained in the Annual Report of the Inspector General of Police.

THE recommendation was made during the Inspector General's comment on the practice of preliminary precautions carried out in Hongkong on November 20 last year.

"This test was confined to extinction of lights in the principal thoroughfares and industrial centres," stated the Hon. Mr. T. H. King.

"It did not affect domestic establishments in any way, but all future tests should include all buildings of every kind."

The Report adds that excellent co-operation was given during the November tests by the various lighting companies, and by the owners of industrial centres concerned.

All available Police Reserve and Special Constables turned out for the event, in which, adds the Inspector General of Police, the population of the Colony displayed a keen interest.

H.K. Smokes Fewer Cigarettes

AND ONE MAN STILL STICKS TO HIS SNUFF BOX

THE modern allure of cigars and cigarettes has not swayed at least one unknown Hongkong resident from his old-fashioned snuff box.

Each year the statistics of the Imports and Exports Department contains an item, hidden away amidst a maze of figures, disclosing that $51 duty has been paid on 46 lbs. of snuff.

The $51 represents only a sneeze in the total revenue of $3,205,522 collected as duty on tobacco imports last year.

Snuff is powdered tobacco used for inhalation through the nose. It is made chiefly from the central stem of the tobacco leaf ground into fine powder, and flavoured with various spices and scents.

Total revenue collected on tobacco imports last year represents an increase over the revenue for last year.

Nevertheless, Hongkong people smoked fewer cigarettes and cigars, and sucked their empty pipes longer before refilling them.

The principal imports were raw tobacco leaf, totalling 3,443,781 lbs., on which duty amounting to $2,675,040 was paid.

Cigarettes proved much more popular than cigars and pipe tobacco, the total importation of "gaspers" amounting to 379,994 lbs., on which $408,417 was paid. Strangely enough, almost as much

Scientists Predict 2,035 Utopia

PARADISE ON EARTH

New York, Aug. 10. THIS earth of ours will become a paradise within the next 100 years, says Mr. Thomas Midgeley, president of the Association of American Chemists.

He admits that his prediction is only a theory, but he calls it a theory based on scientific fact. Generations yet unborn, he declares, are to reap the full benefit of a great reaction to the years of crisis through which the world has passed, and in the year 2,035 war, strife, disease and unhappiness will have no meaning.

Trips To Other Planets
Communication will have been established by then with the other planets. Excursions will be run from the earth to Mars and Venus.

But will the man of the future have time for making these excursions?

Yes, because hours of work will have been reduced to the barest minimum, and wages will be comparatively high. There will be a two-hour day in all industries.

Medical science will gradually lengthen the lives of human beings. The order will be long life, little to do, and plenty of time and money for amusements. Cancer, tuberculosis, influenza and all other dangerous epidemics will have been forgotten. There will be germs, but only in medical museums.

Cities and towns will be completely free from dirt and rubbish. Public health and sanitation will reach a stage which nobody to-day could even imagine.

The toothbrush and towel will no longer be a necessity for human beings, as we shall employ newer and simpler methods for cleansing our bodies.

Cigars as pipe tobacco was imported, the cigars totalling 10,961 lbs., compared with 13,760 lbs. of European tobacco.

The great Fur stores in New York are using gas to attack the harmful moths in their stocks. To avoid all kinds of danger the staff wears gas-masks.

12,297 WENT TO GAOL LAST YEAR

MAGISTRATES HAD A BUSIER TIME

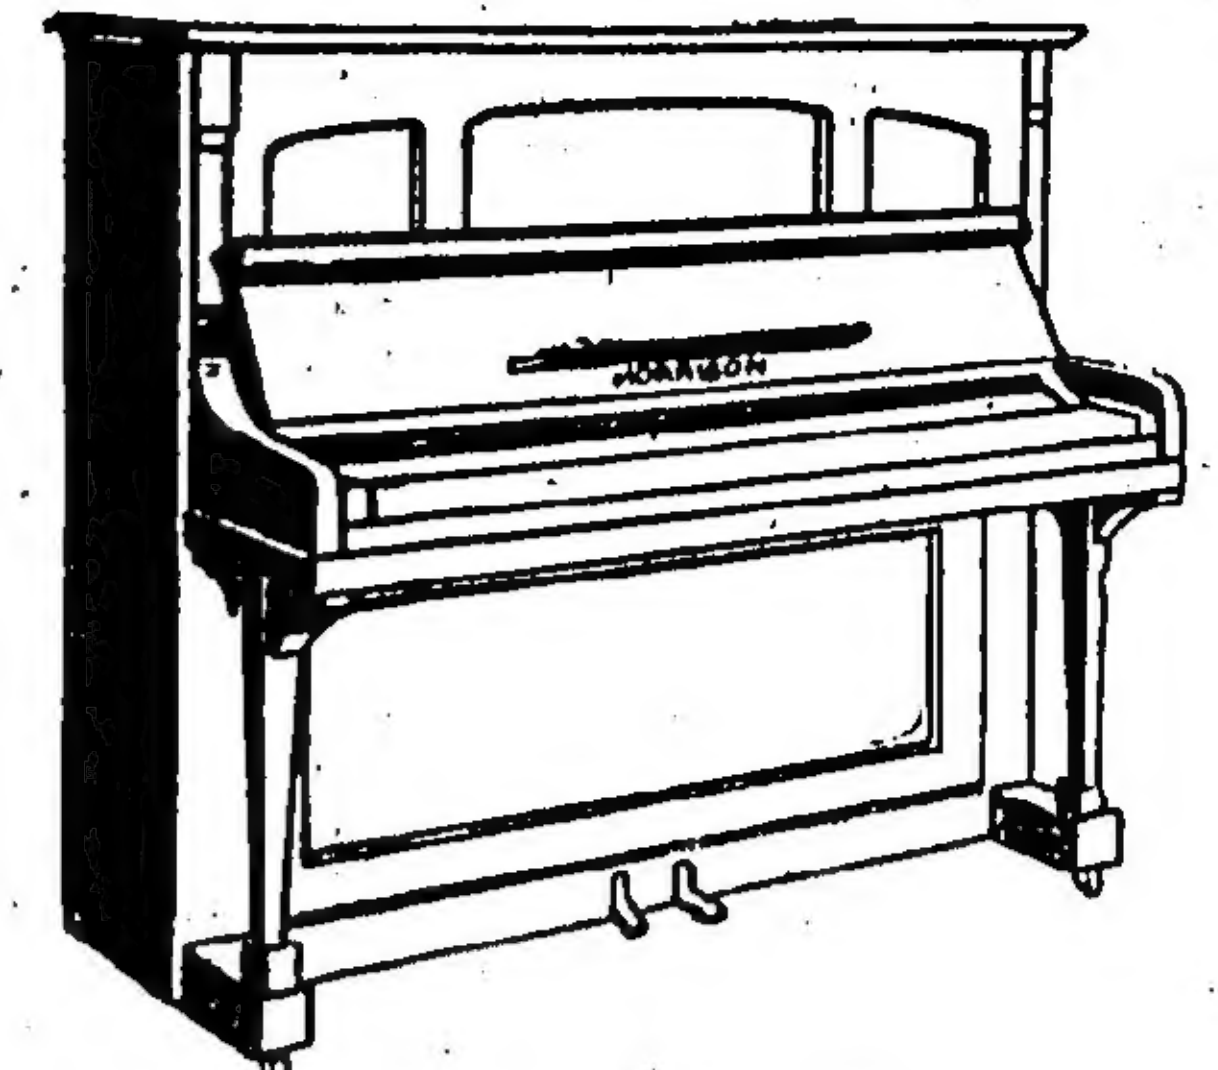

A brisk increase in magisterial convictions was recorded in Hongkong last year, 12,297 prisoners entering the iron gates of Victoria Gaol and Laichikok Prison during the year, as compared with 10,192 in 1933.

Over 1,800 of last year's new prisoners, Victoria and Laichikok were not unfamiliar residences, over 14 per cent. of the total admissions being prisoners with previous convictions.

Most of the inhabitants of the three prisons in the Colony found plenty of work to do. The most popular task seems to have been Printing and Book-binding for, according to the Annual Report of the Superintendent of Prisons, Mr. J. W. Franks, 2,333,380 forms were printed and issued to various Government Departments, while 106,499 books were bound or repaired. The total value of work done under this heading during the year was $265,869.

In addition, prisoners were employed in coil mat making, net-making, tailoring, rattanwork, tin-smithing, carpentering, grass-matting, shoemaking, laundry, photography, gardening and weaving.

IL DUCE
RISKS
HIS LAURELSMAY INVOLVE ITALY
IN LONG WARBy HARRY W. FRANTZ
United Press Staff Correspondent

Washington, Aug. 20.

Premier Mussolini will risk his hard-won laurels as a world statesman if and when Italian troops launch aggressive warfare against the potential million of Abyssinian hill-men, some international authorities here believe.

"Eleventh hour" caution at Rome would not cause surprise. The United States Government with a "hands-off" policy in the Italo-Abyssinian fracas has left American opinion without direction, but military and diplomatic experts have been quick to sense the great political hazards that will attend the Italian campaign in Africa.

Mussolini's place in the front rank of world statesmen was attained, some authorities believe, by his masterly management of Italian interests on her northern and eastern frontiers. The Adriatic has become an "Italian lake," and Italian nationalism is said to be strong even in the northernmost sections.

Yugo-Slavia, Greece, Austria and Germany in turn, since the war felt the diplomatic might of Italy. But usually it was "Mussolini's velvet glove and not his steel fist" that brought success.

A re-direction of Italian foreign policy from the Adriatic to the Red Sea, experts point out, would give Italy two diplomatic frontiers. If Italy suffered an unforeseen military reversal, or financial attrition due to long-sustained guerrilla warfare, Slavic and German peoples of Central Europe would quite naturally be moved by a new restlessness.

Adowa Lesson

Napoleon Bonaparte, say the historians, lost in Egypt the laurels that he gained in North Italy; Crispin, brilliant Italian statesman of the last century, lost post and prestige by the Italian disaster at Adowa, Abyssinia, in 1896; Britain had great difficulty defeating the Dutch in South Africa; Premier Primo Rivera of Spain lost in Morocco the prestige gained by internal policy; pre-war Germany at Agadir, and in East Africa, invited the fatal challenge of British sea power.

These lessons of history account for the cool estimate here as to possible results of an Italo-Abyssinian war. Some friends of Italy fear that she may develop a military and financial "ulcer" in Africa. The Italian military disaster at Canerotto in October 1917 is still vivid in the memory of strategists. They recall the tremendous physical and moral support given to Italy in her tragic hour by England.

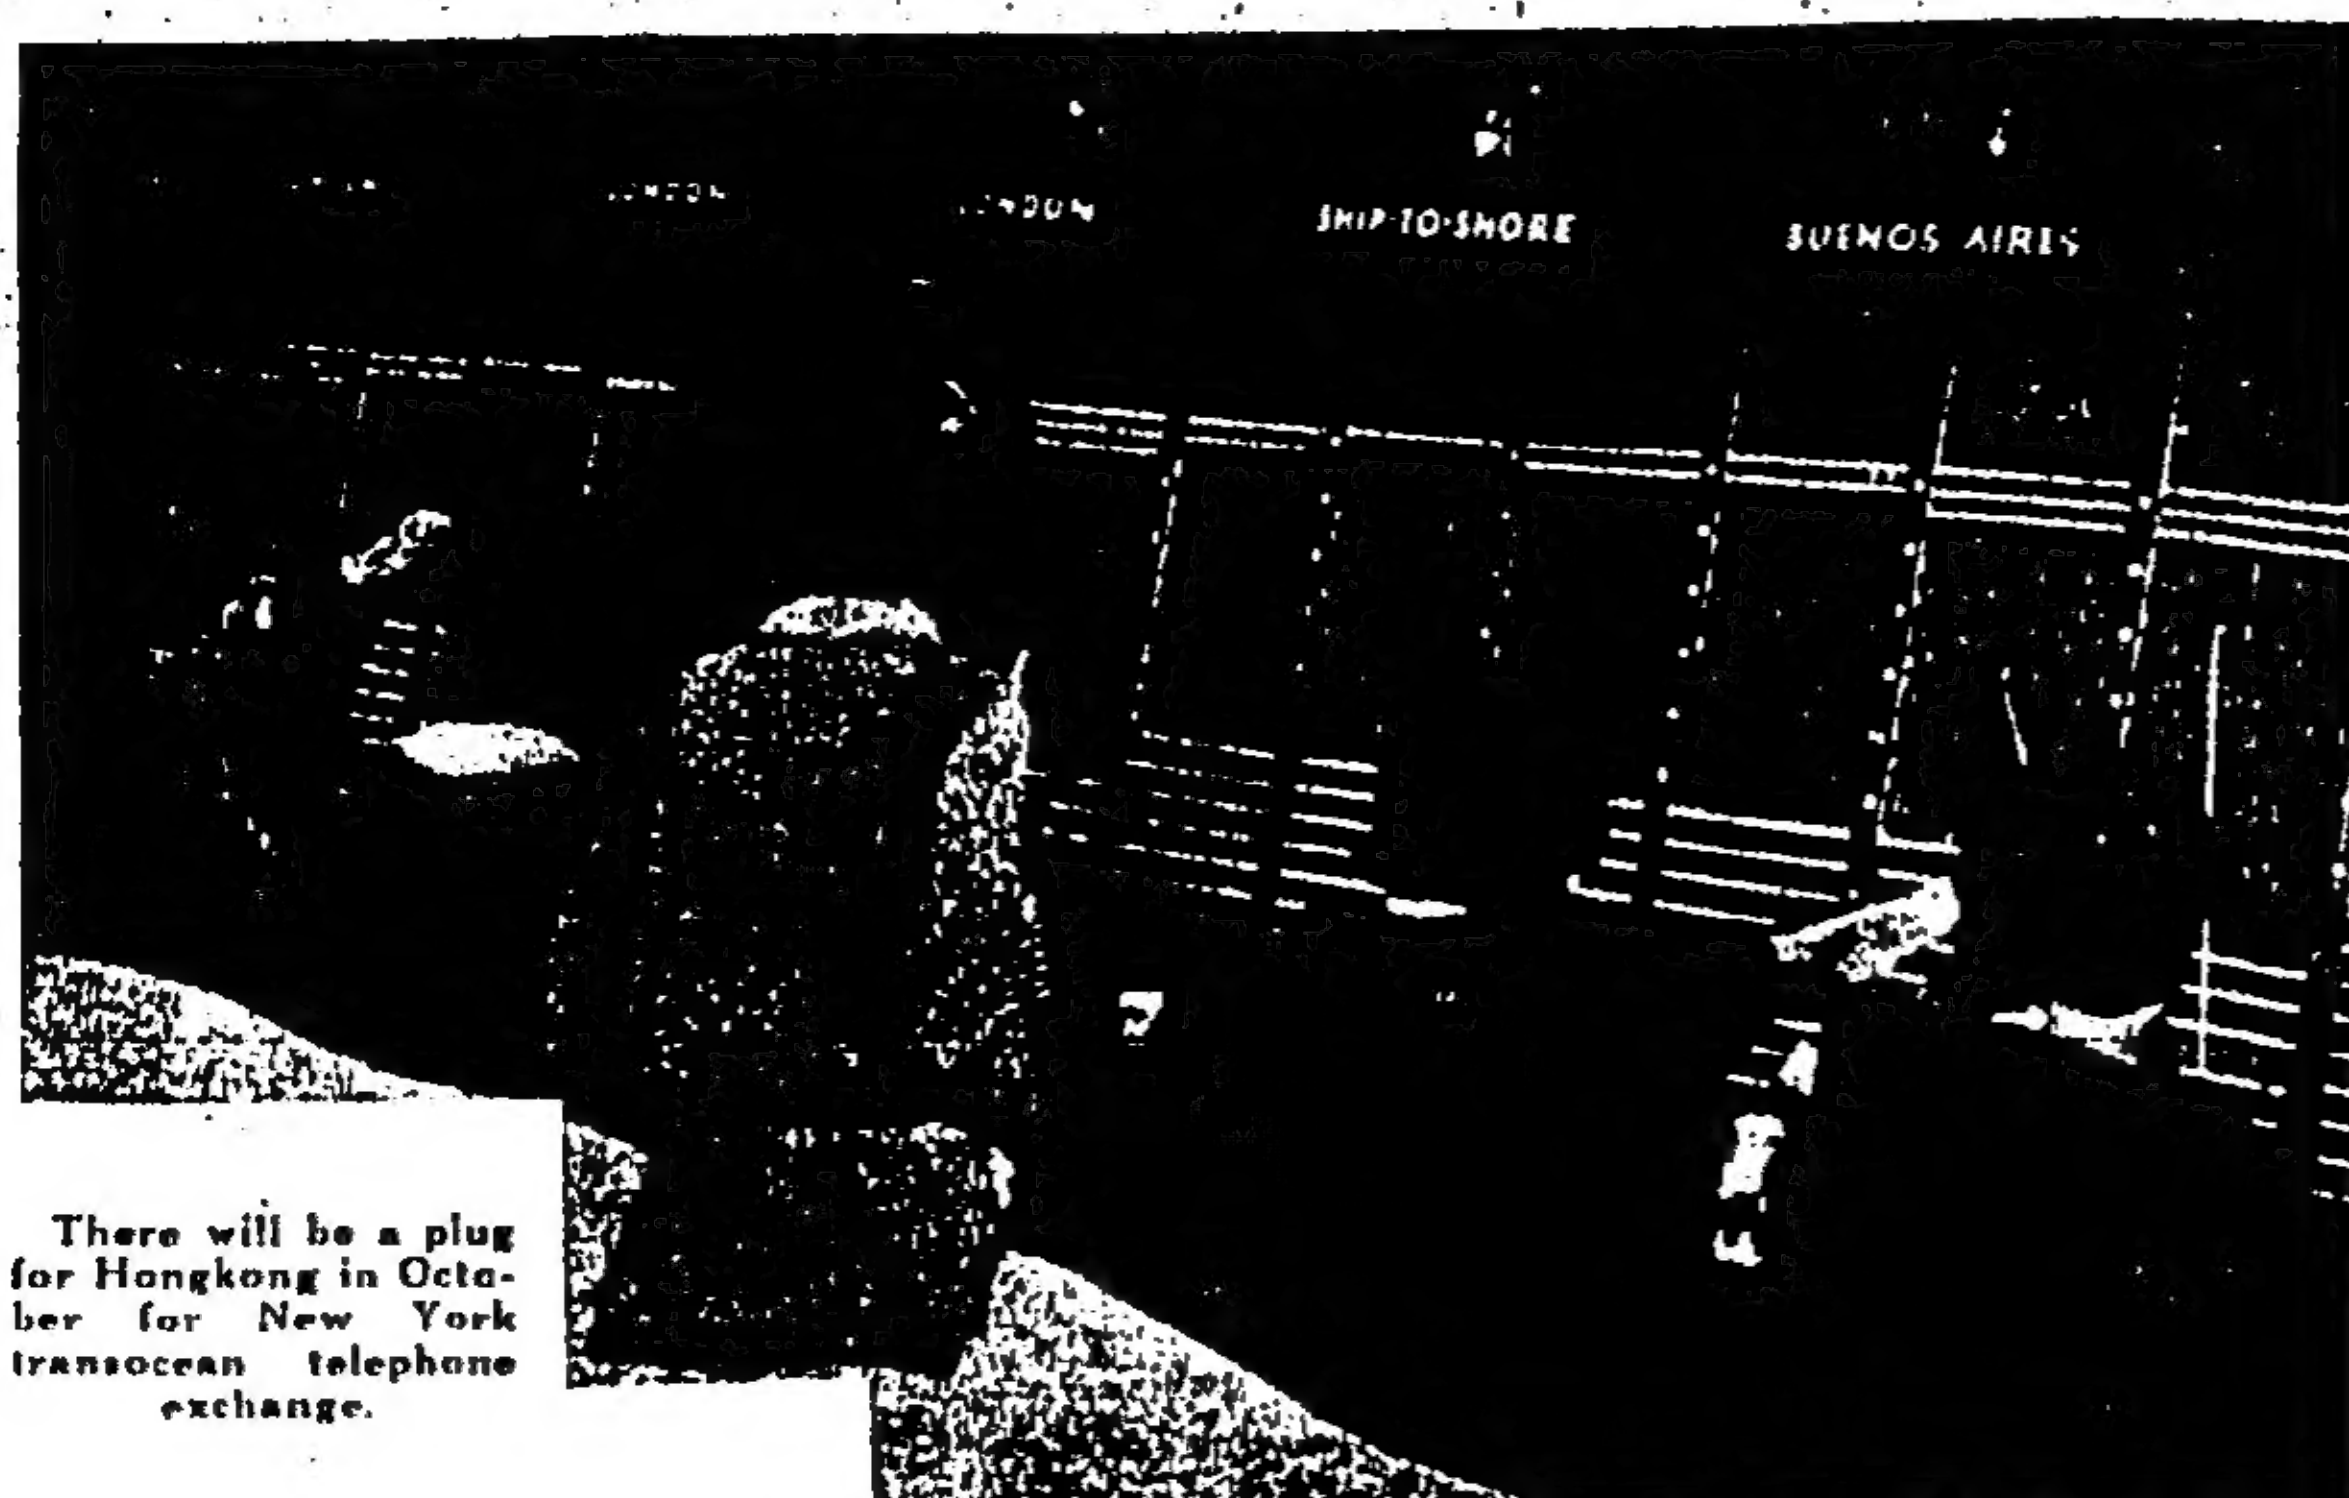

Optimistic admirers of Mussolini believe that he will win a prompt and smashing military decision in Abyssinia, and that Great Britain and other countries will adjust themselves reluctantly to the subsequent de facto situation as they did after the Japanese occupation of Manchuria.

Knife Best Weapon?

This optimistic view is countered by some military experts who believe that the rifle and the knife are still essential weapons of mountain warfare, and that in Abyssinia numbers of men rather than modernity of equipment may prove decisive.

The potential risk to Italy of an African politico-military adventure, analysts point out, rests upon the fact that she has attained a hegemony on her northern and eastern frontiers without precedent in modern times, but based on some circumstances that may not prove permanent.

Such circumstances are: (1) the Russian "bear" has temporarily stopped hunting the "honey-pots" of imperialistic conquest; (2) the South Slavs required the post-war decades to consolidate the nationhood attained in the war-born kingdom of Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes; (3) Greek imperialism proved abortive in Asia Minor; and (4) France has kept a relatively relaxed attitude toward Italy because of her transatlantic concern over Germany.

Hongkong
Still Sticks
To Beer

POPULAR BEVERAGE

Beer is Hongkong's most popular beverage.

Last year duty amounting to $185,157 was paid on 273,498 gallons of imported beers and ales, while an additional $53,118 was paid on 88,257 gallons of beer brewed by the Hongkong Brewers and Distillers, Ltd. The total quantity of beer imported into and made in Hongkong last year was 361,755 gallons.

Next in popularity was whisky, of which 29,268 gallons was imported. Gins and Cocktails were a good third, 17,653 gallons being imported, as compared with 14,636 gallons of foreign brandy and 1,078 gallons of Empire brandy. Port Wine (6,192 gallons), Sherry (4,432 gallons), and Vermouth (4,130 gallons) were next in order of favouritism.

Hongkong people seemingly do not care for their tots of Rum, for only 3,169 gallons were imported.

Less Champagne Now
Imports of champagne slumped badly compared with previous years, only 1,983 gallons going into bond. The duty on this quantity, however, was as much as that paid for almost twice as much rum, and exceeded the duty paid on Sherries. The duty collected for European Type liquors was $952,774, while the total duty collected on all type of liquor amounted to $2,239,533. This represents a decrease of $211,322 compared with the 1933.

Illicit distilleries continued to give Excise officers trouble during last year, despite frequent raids. Many respectable houses in Kowloon were, when raided, found to be elaborate distilleries, turning out illicit native beverages, brewed chiefly from rice.

SERVICE TO SHANGHAI
VIA CANTONWILL PROVIDE LINK
WITH WORLD

In less than two months it will be possible for Hongkong telephone subscribers to speak to 32,000,000 telephone users in other parts of the world, or approximately 93 per cent. of the telephones in use.

On the Double Tenth—October 10—the Shanghai-Canton radio telephone service will provide Hongkong with the necessary link for communicating by phone with the outside world.

The equipment is already installed in Canton, and tests will be carried out with Shanghai in the near future. British equipment is being used.

Shanghai is already in telephonic communication with all parts of the world, as is Manila.

Canton will possibly utilise both channels for its service. It will also link up with the existing low-power radio-telephone station at Macao, at present used for broadcasting purposes.

SUICIDE DRAMA

Lieutenant Derek Webber, formerly of Hongkong, who left a letter addressed to a Miss Donovan in Hongkong before committing suicide in Suva.

Hongkong will be linked to the Canton station by the ordinary trunk line telephone service, owned by the Hongkong Telephone Company.

Practically every country in the world, including Australia, India, Japan, South Africa, New Zealand, North and South America, Great Britain and the continent of Europe, will be brought in touch with the Colony.

No definite information is yet available regarding the proposed scale of charges, but it is thought they will be in the vicinity of $15 a minute for Shanghai and Manila and $5 a minute for Macao, plus trunk line fees from Hongkong to Canton.

The scale of charges from Manila and Shanghai to various centres in the world is as follows:

	First 3 mins.	Each Add. Min.
France with Monaco	G$32.00	G$10.87
Java	12.00	4.00
Portugal	35.25	11.55
Australia	68.42	21.00
Gi. Britain, Ireland	32.45	10.84
Germany	30.00	10.00

H.K. Police
Still Face
Old ProblemKOWLOON IS CHIEF
DUMPING PLACE
FOR DEAD

Dead Chinese bodies are dumped in the streets and harbour of Hongkong with a regularity and persistence that, so far, has defeated every effort of the Police Department to prevent this gruesome habit.

KOWLOON has long since been the dumping ground of parents whose children, have died, or of others who, for one reason or another, prefer dumping their dead to burying or taken them to the Mortuary.

Last year over a thousand bodies were dumped in various parts of Hongkong, chiefly in Kowloon, where 679 bodies were discovered.

Only 22 of the bodies were adults, the remainder being children, of whom 564 were male, 444 female and 26 unknown. Three of the adult dead were women.

6,441 In Five Years
Since the beginning of 1930, a total of 6,441 bodies have been found by the Police in the streets and elsewhere in the Colony. Of these, the appalling total of 6,102 have been the bodies of unwanted children.

In an effort to decrease the evil the Police Department some years ago constructed special boxes into which the bodies could be left. Few, however, availed themselves of the opportunity of obtaining free burial for their dead.

As compared with this total of bodies discovered on the main-land, only 289 were found on the island and, more strangely still in view of the large water population, only 27 bodies were discovered in the harbour.

Actually, last year's total of 1,056 bodies represents a substantial decrease over 1933, when 1,347 bodies were discovered, 881 of this total being in Kowloon.

WHICH NOISE
ANNOYS MOST?STAR FERRY WHISTLE
OR MOTORISTS' SIRENS

Which noise annoys most? Some people would unhesitatingly say it is the nerve-shattering rivetting machine used in such buildings as the Hongkong & Shanghai Bank. Some Hongkong motorists and the Star Ferry whistle are also irritating offenders. They would be surprised to hear that inside the average airplane cabin the din is even worse.

Scientists have now invented a "noise thermometer" which registers intensity of sound as the ordinary thermometer records degrees of heat.

On this "noise thermometer" the sound of a whisper heard five feet away is 10. The noise in a railway carriage with the window open is 60, a road drill 90, an aeroplane cabin 100.

But the biggest noise of all known to science is that of heavy gunfire—16,000,000,000 times louder than a whisper, and a hundred times louder than a roaring lion five feet away.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

WAR STOCKS LEAD LIST

New York, Aug. 26.
The following reports on the New York Stock market have been received through Messrs. Swan, Culbertson & Fritz:

The Wall Street Journal report on yesterday's market: War stocks led the list in its upward movement, with utility issues joining the advance.
The belief that the market is in an oversold position was the main reason for a reversal of last week's trend. In the Bonds market, United States Government issues were heavily downward, while Italian issues reached new low levels.

Stocks on the Curb Exchange were narrowly irregular.
S. C. & F. New York office cables:
The market was impressively firm and we look for higher prices.
Standard Brands have earned 21 cents per share for the quarter ended June 30 against 31 cents during the corresponding quarter of last year.
Steel mill activity during the past week is estimated at 47.9 per cent.
of activity, against 48.8 per cent. the previous week. The Standard Brands Incorporated has declared a quarterly dividend of 20 cents per share on a eighty-cent basis.

New York and Chicago commodity reports received through Messrs.
Swan, Culbertson & Fritz:
Cotton: The Lean question continues in a state of deadlock. The movement in the interior and hedge operations have slowed down, whilst Traders are cautious pending the outcome of the Lean problem.

Wheat: The lack of follow-up is discouraging long interests. Any material advance will depend on better public support. The visible supply of wheat has increased by 5,500,000 bushels.

Corn: The market is heavy. The visible supply shows an increase of 175,000 bushels.

Rubber: The undertone is good on declines. Offerings were on the light side, with switching of September options the chief activity.

Silk: The squeeze in August options is apparently over.

CINEMA NEWS

NOTES FROM THE THEATRES

Following on the sensational success of Jan Kiepura's last picture, "Tell me To-night," "My Song For You," coming soon to the Queen's Theatre, should arouse considerable interest, particularly as he is again partnered by the irrepressible Sonnie Hale, who acts the role of manager Gatti, the famous tenor (Jan Kiepura) with an excellent sense of comedy. A number of scenes take place in the South of France, lending a charming background to the story. The film opens with a shot of Jan Kiepura, as Gatti, coming aboard his yacht in the Mediterranean, singing the lovely melody from which the film gets its title. Later we hear Kiepura sing excerpts from the opera "Aida" and during a wedding in church he sings the "Ave Maria." "My Song For You" is a delightful medley of song, laughter and romance and a film that will definitely appeal to all classes of filmgoers. Also in the cast with Jan Kiepura and Sonnie Hale are Aileen Marson, Reginald Smith, Emily Williams and Muriel George. Maurice Elvey directed.

"Elmer Norton"
Since he had become both producer and director, Norman Foster has lost some of his regard for movie actors. Called back to Hollywood to appear in "Elmer Norton," which arrives on Wednesday at the King's Theatre, Foster is now eagerly looking forward to his return to Tahiti. There he will complete the undersea motion picture in which he already has $15,000 invested. "Actors? Not so hot," he says. "Always late on the set; never satisfied. My leading lady, a native of Papeete, had beautiful long black hair. Half way through the picture she became angry; why, I don't know. Anyway, the next morning she reported for work with bobbed hair. She had cut it off just to get even."

"Kiss and Make-Up"
A bright and frivolous romantic comedy about a handsome beauty doctor who fell victim to a synthetic beauty of his own creation with an expected consequence. "Kiss and Make-Up," featuring Cary Grant, Genevieve Tobin, Helen Mack and Edward Everett Horton, is now playing at the Star Theatre. It is a B. P. Schulberg-Paramount production. In the leading roles, Grant as the beauty surgeon, and Miss Tobin as the artificial Venus, prove to be one of the most attractive romantic comedy teams the screen has offered in some time. Miss Mack justifies Paramount's choice of her as a future star, by a spontaneous and intelligent performance. And Edward Everett Horton—Well, is there anyone you would rather see than Horton? The picture is the first directorial effort of Harlan Thompson, writer and Broadway producer, and merits, for that reason, more than usual praise for its general excellence. He was assisted by Jean YVES, costume designer, and by Hans Dreier who designed the stunning modern interiors. Thirteen charming young misses, the Baby Wampus Stars of 1934 are cast in speaking roles, and Mona Maris, Lucien Littlefield, Doris Lloyd, and Tolly Wing deserve especial mention for their acting in the principal supporting roles.

"The Queen's Affairs"
For the first time in British film history a romantic co-starring team is being sponsored by a British film studio. The combination of Anna Neagle and Fernand Granyer, won such praise in "Bitter Sweet," that there was an immediate call for more pictures introducing them together. "The Queen's Affairs" is the first picture to answer this demand. It is to have a special presentation at the Oriental Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday. Miss Neagle has been brought to a peak of stardom by careful grooming—part of which process has consisted of a judicious "mixing" of her roles. Now she appears as a regal and commanding figure, familiar with the life of New York and Paris, called back from her travels abroad to assume a throne—a young and beautiful queen, cultured, sophisticated and witty. So, with Fernand Granyer, from the romantic Victorian music master of "Bitter Sweet," he becomes the forceful, active, humorous young President who falls in love with the Queen he has deposed when, ignorant of her true identity, he meets her at a holiday resort.

"Paris In Spring"
There's still time for you to get your spring tonic of music, romance, gaiety and laughter, at the Queen's Theatre to-day, where "Paris In Spring" is showing. Filmdom's first lady of song, Mary Ellis, and its new romantic sensation, Tullio Carminati, are the impetuous persons involved in this delightful song-filled story of a quadrangle of romance. Because Mary Ellis doesn't pay enough attention to him, Carminati threatens to jump off the Eiffel Tower. Ida Lupino has the same idea because of romantic complication with James Blakeley. But instead of jumping this mad-cup pair get together and start off on a wild whirl in the night life of Paris. Their respective sweethearts become jealous, police accuse Carminati of kidnapping Miss Lupino and there's mad chase that winds up at the mansion. Grady—me shuts up the incorrectly paired couples in different rooms and after a hilarious night of romantic comedy, the loving couples are brought together again.

"The Countess of Monte Cristo"
There have been few motion picture directors, going to the United States from Europe, who have become so thoroughly acclimated to American film production methods as Karl Freund. Universal director, who made "The Countess of Monte Cristo," showing to-day at the King's Theatre, recognised as a foremost authority on unusual photography. Freund, strangely enough, believes trick camera work has become a lost art. With the advent of talking pictures it is dialogue that is most important, contends Freund, who is very candid

KWEICHOW REBELS

CHIANG PREPARING DRASTIC MEASURES

Canton, Aug. 26.
General Chiang Kai-shek has ordered his troops in Kweichow to speed up the suppression of the nine rebel regiments. A reward of $10,000 is offered for the capture of each rebel regimental commander.

The three Nanking divisions shelled Tukiang in South-western Kweichow on August 23 and captured it from the rebel troops who retreated to Yunkiang. Over 250 provincial soldiers were disarmed and 80 were killed at Tukiang. Brig-General Kiang Yung-hua, the rebel leader, has ordered his men to defend Yung-kiang at all costs.

General Chiang is anxious to clean up these rebels as troops are needed on the Szechuen front, where Communist offensive started on August 22. The Reds are now launching a drive on Lifan.

If the rebels refuse to surrender, bombing planes will be sent against them.—Spreit.

Mutineers Routed

Canton, August 26.
The Mutineers in Southern Kweichow, have been completely broken up after several days' severe fighting, according to the latest report.

Nanking sent two divisions, namely the 99th, the 92nd, Divisions against them. The mutineers held out at Kuechow until the 22nd inst. when they were overwhelmed by the arrival of Hunan reinforcements and abandoned Kuechow which was entered by Nanking troops on the 23rd inst.

Martial law has been lifted in Kueiyang, where peace and order have been restored.—Wah Kin Yat Po.

In his opinion that motion pictures are as yet far from the perfection state. However, he does visualize greater strides and progress for the animated screen as time goes by, principally through its own originality. In "The Countess of Monte Cristo" Freund is right at home. The delightful continental background of this comedy-drama is one he knows well. Fay Weng and Paul Lukas head the featured cast in this film, which includes Palmy Kelly, Paul Page, Reginald Owen, John Sheehan, Robert McWade and others.

Read Your Health In The Palm Of Your Hand.

Stretch the hand out flat and look at the colouring which lies just beneath the outer skin. If you are in good health the flesh will be a mottled rosy pink. Should the pink tones appear pale, the probability is that your blood lacks haemoglobin (red colouring) and red corpuscles. Here is the reason why many people are not exactly well; some are really ill.

The blood carries life force and nutriment to every part of the body. If the blood is low in haemoglobin and red corpuscles, the person is more or less anemic or "run-down," easily tired, lacking in vitality, perhaps close to serious sickness. Fortunately, the vitality of the blood can be increased in the majority of cases, as was proved in a special clinic of 40 persons whose haemoglobin and red corpuscles were low. Under competent direction these patients took a 30-day treatment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Blood tests taken before and after treatment demonstrated conclusively in the microscope how this excellent remedy had built up the vitality of the blood and restored health and vigor.

If your palm or your face tell you your blood is not up to try a 30-day treatment of Williams' Pink Pills. You probably experience the in general health and vitality served in the persons clinic. Health is Williams' Pink Pills. This tested its restorative everywhere.

THE BANISHEE PROBLEM

In commenting recently upon the banishee problem, we raised a doubt as to whether imprisonment of returned deportees really deters them from coming back to the Colony. Since that time, official figures have been issued showing the numbers sent away and the numbers arrested on their return. It is difficult to assess the value of those figures, because, in the first instance, the banishes returning within a given period may not be the same ones as those deported during that period; and, secondly, because the total arrests give no clue to the number who have actually returned. Only when cases come into Court and the records of the deportees are disclosed is it possible to reach any conclusion as to the efficacy of imprisonment as a deterrent. In this connection, it is of interest to note a batch of cases dealt with at the recent Criminal Sessions. These disclosed that one man had returned to the Colony no fewer than ten times since 1920, another six times since 1925, and yet another five times since 1926. These instances do at any rate suggest that sending offenders to gaol does not discourage them from coming back again. They are cited as typical cases, and they could be greatly added to from Criminal Sessions records. In each of the cases quoted, the offender was sent to prison for three years, there to be maintained at the cost of the Government. How many years these three men have spent in gaol altogether, and at what cost, we are unable to say. But the point which we desire to stress is that imprisonment is no solution of the problem. It was for this reason that we suggested recently that apprehended banishes should merely be brought before the Court for identification, and then be sent away again. We concede that this also is no solution of the problem, and that the men concerned would in all likelihood return, but, as we have shown, even imprisonment does not keep them out of the Colony once they are released. If it can be shown that fewer would return so long as the imprisonment system continues, then the cost and trouble involved might be justified, but that has yet to be determined. One way of reaching some more definite conclusion would be to

NOTES OF THE DAYEXAMPLES IN PROGRESS.

In Great Britain, in the process of industrial recovery there appear to be few or no setbacks. It is a steady movement, based on definite and progressive improvement in trade. One record comes from 2,072 industrial concerns which show profits as at the end of March 31 last 19.15 per cent, above those for the corresponding period of 1933-34. Another batch of companies, numbering 694, report net profits for their financial quarter 17.8 per cent, or those for the same quarter last year. The progress being made does not apply to any limited number of industrial firms; it embraces all. The iron, steel and coal industries show an improvement estimated at 85.4 per cent. Telegraphs and telephones improved by 41.2 per cent. In their financial returns; shipping improved 35.5 per cent; canals and docks, 45.5 per cent; rubber, 29.2 per cent; trusts, 24.6 per cent; hotels and restaurants, 12.9 per cent. Great Britain has set an example to the world in the same way of promoting recovery. She has balanced her budget by the principle of economy. So great is the confidence reposed in her financial measures that London has again become the money market of the world. The marvel is that so few countries have responded to her example. One, however, that did was Australia. Now Australia, having received and put into practice British advice, has a balanced budget, a trade surplus, and in successive years has reduced her Federal income tax and removed a number of nuisance taxes. Recovery in Great Britain and Australia has not been by the medium of vast expenditures of public money. These countries do not believe in pulling themselves up by their bootstraps. There has been reality, not artificiality, in their policies.

THE AERIAL CURE.

Another reason has been found for making the British people air-minded. One who for twenty years had suffered from a succession of colds writes that since four years ago he took to flying in an open cockpit machine he has had only one very mild attack of the malady that used to make his life a misery. Here, then, is hope at last for the conquest of the common cold, the need for a concerted campaign against which is so often talked about, without anything being done. As mankind takes more and more to the air, the ravages of the most characteristic disease of civilisation will diminish, and whenever one feels a cold coming on, it will be no longer fashionable to dose oneself with aspirin or lemon; it will suffice to take an immediate hop into the empyrean, returning to earth well rid of all microbial encumbrances. It is well known that Arctic explorers never catch colds—until they are so foolish as to return to civilisation, or when they open some package that they have taken with them from home. This indicates, as does the experience of the man with a passion for open cockpits, that it is not cold that causes colds, but the impure atmospheric conditions under which many of us live. Colds are less frequent in summer because ventilation is then at its best, as is the tone of the human organism. In winter conditions present an absolute contrast to this; but even in winter it is possible to do oneself more harm than good by fleeing from every suggestion of a draught and revelling in fofid air. Perhaps, as the health of the people becomes more and more thoroughly supervised by the State, we shall find all victims of the common cold divided into specially conducted parties for compulsory trips into the upper air. The person with a cold is a menace to his fellows, but what to do with him, when he will not betake himself to bed, is a problem that has hitherto baffled all who have to associate with him. The day may not be far distant when it will be possible to convey all perms of the common cold to the stratosphere and ruthlessly leave them there.

take the individual records of those arrested and strike a percentage therefrom of the number of occasions on which these men have come back again. Even better, would be to give a trial to the system we have suggested; it would then be possible to make a fair comparison. We have less hesitancy in putting forward this latter proposal than we otherwise would have from the fact that the great majority of the returned banishes are not hardened criminals, but mostly revenue offenders. Thus, if it so happened that they returned in larger numbers, no great harm to the security of the public would be occasioned whilst the experiment was being given a trial. Only by such method would it be possible to assess the value or otherwise of imprisonment as a deterrent.

TWO GREAT JUBILEE SEASONS

BY THE COUNTESS OF OXFORD AND ASQUITH

The Palace Garden Party recently saw the ceremony of the greatest London season since the year 1897; and though our King and Queen have inspired, inaugurated, and attended every public parade with meticulous grace and energy, I think the triumph of their personal popularity will compensate them for any feeling they may have of fatigue. Health depends largely upon happiness, and the happiness of this London Jubilee season has rejuvenated the youth, health, and spirit of the whole nation as well as added to her prosperity. There has been, however, so much talked and written about war that to those who cling to the clouds before the silver lining I would recommend a few reflections on the events of this great London season.

In Jubilee week I motored about in the poorest parts of London and saw little flags fluttering from overcrowded flats and derelict houses, whose inhabitants had probably sacrificed a meal to buy them. They did not look upon it as a duty or a sacrifice; they anticipated the occasion as one for enjoyment, and I never saw so much gaiety in the streets as I witnessed that week.

There has seldom been a season in which there have been so many royal ceremonies so much private entertaining, and such perfect public order.

Millions of seats were sold to see the royal procession, millions stood in the streets for endless hours, thousands collected nightly around Buckingham Palace in the hopes which were not disappointed of seeing their Sovereigns acknowledge their cheers from the floodlit balcony of the palace. And yet not a tulip was trampled on, and not a person was injured, and not a railing was bent.

I was moved to the core by the wonderful demonstrations of devotion, loyalty, and enthusiasm, coupled with the astonishing public order of the crowds. You can organise everything in the lives of citizens if you have sufficient officials, barriers, soldiers, regulations, and detectives, but you can never organise love; and every monarch, President, Emperor, and Dictator must have envied our King this year.

The last great London season I saw was in 1897, when Queen Victoria celebrated her Diamond Jubilee, and a greater contrast to this season can hardly be imagined. Everything was on a far grander scale.

NOT NAVAL BASESJAPAN'S DENIAL ABOUT MANDATED ISLANDS

Geneva, Aug. 25. The Japanese Government has submitted its annual report regarding the administration of its mandated islands. The report contains a denial that military and naval bases exist on the islands and gives details of expenditure on the ports and harbours in an effort to silence the persistent rumours that the islands are prepared naval bases.—United Press.

U.S. Manoeuvres
Pine Camp, N. Y., Aug. 25. Hostilities in the greatest peacetime army manoeuvres ever held by the United States were temporarily halted to-day after the Red Forces, commanded by Major General William Durwood Connor, former Commander of the U.S. troops in China, routed the Blue Forces under Major General L. R. Holbrook, along a ten mile front.

Over 35,000 troops were engaged in the mimic battle.—United Press.

The most distinguished of the Colonial Premiers was Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with whom, after my marriage, my husband and I made a lasting friendship. As far as I can remember, every crowned head in Europe took part in the royal procession, as well as the turbaned Indian Princes, for whom Queen Victoria always had a special affection.

At 11 a.m. on June 22, 1897, a gun in Hyde Park was fired to announce that the Queen had left the palace, but before leaving she had transmitted a message to her subjects in all parts of the Empire. "From my heart I thank my beloved people. May God bless them."

Were I asked what moved me most in this London season I would quote a sentence from his Majesty's speech on receiving the loyal congratulations of Parliament in Westminster Hall on the 9th of May: "In these days when fear and preparation for war are again with us in the world, let us be thankful that quiet government and peace prevail over so large a part of the earth's surface, and that under our flag of freedom so many millions eat their daily bread, in distant lands and climates, with none to make them afraid."

That the islands are prepared naval bases.—United Press.

PAINFUL PARAGRAPHS
More Jottings From the Kelly Scrapbook

— Edited By Eddie —

NOW for a little love story. The story of Amelier who had never loved nobody until one day—

Gazing out of the window she saw Derrick. A fine, handsome fellow like Clark Gable, clad in a white uniform, he was cycling along the Pimlico Road on a box-trike labelled "Stop Me and Try One."

Yes, he was a ice-cream salesman, and soon Amelier began to listen for his bike bell, and his call: "They're lovely!"

At the end of a week they were getting on so well together that Amelier was getting her Kreemy Kornets for nixes; and, on the Sunday nite they had a walk by the river.

Suddenly they became aware of a bald-headed old gentleman making noises like a starting-price bookmaker. It was Amelier's father.

"You scoundrel!" he roared. "How dare you make love to my daughter? I know you, you rascal, selling Kreemy Kornets!" "They're lovely!" said Derrick.

The old man turned to his daughter. "This must cease!" he ordered. "I'd sooner see you wedded to a jernall than to this villain!" "Stay!" cried Derrick, tearing off his false moustache as he spoke. "I am really a journalist. I was only selling Kreemy Kornets in order to get material for a article!"

"Heaven bless you!" said the old man. "I suppose you have finished now?"

"Notterfall," said Derrick. "I can make about three times as much out of Kreemy Kornets as I do jernallising—so I have decided to stick to selling Kreemy Kornets. They're lovely!"

And with a playful push, he hurled the old man into the river.

DENVER TERROR

STARTS 21 FIRES IN FOUR DAYS

Denver, Colorado, Aug. 26. The mystery of a series of fires here during the last few days has, it is believed, been solved by the arrest of the 17 years old son of Doctor O. F. Oakland of California.

The police allege that he has confessed to responsibility for 18 fires out of 21 started since Thursday.

On Saturday fires were started in the Municipal Art Gallery, the six million dollars City Hall and the Roman Catholic school. A daring youth dashed through the police cordon and escaped despite a hail of bullets, and then set fire to an office building in another part of the town.

The climax was reached yesterday when the washroom in the police station was set alight. The police traced the accused to a night club where they arrested him.—Reuter's Special Service.

HOARE BEATEN IN SEMI-FINAL ROUND BY THE CHAMPION

AN UNEXPECTED BUT DESERVED WIN FOR THE NEW HOLDER

Lieut. W. D. F. B. Muspratt, who was stationed in Hongkong a couple of years ago, and who took part in local tennis and other sporting activities, is the new Royal Navy and Royal Marines Lawn Tennis champion, he having won the title at Wimbledon this month. In his passage to the final he eliminated Lieut. R. C. Hoare, another ex-Hongkong Naval officer. Lieut. Muspratt will be remembered as a competitor in the Open Mixed Doubles Championship organised by the Chinese R. C. two years ago.

(By H. S. Scrivener)

London, Aug. 26. As was the case last year, some difficulty is being experienced in carrying through the Royal Navy and Royal Marines championships in the allotted three days. It was the challenge round of the Davis Cup that upset the Navy's attempt by claiming, as it had the right to do, the exclusive use of Wimbledon on the first two days of this week. Formerly, when our people had to go cup-hunting to Paris, the Navy had five days in which to settle their differences.

Yesterday the effort to reduce the last eight to two was frustrated by a long and exhausting match between Surg. Lt.-Cdr. Mocker and Sub. Lt. Vavasour. It would have been far better if this match could have been played in the morning, but, doubtless for some good and sufficient reason, it was not. It finished at 4.5 p.m., having lasted for about an hour and fifty minutes, and it would have been obviously inequitable to call upon Mocker, the winner, to play Cdr. (Continued on Page 9.)

PROPOSAL TO INVITE HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI TO COMPETE

EARLY NEXT YEAR

Manila, Aug. 21.

A proposal to invite Shanghai and Hongkong to participate in an interport tennis tournament in Manila next January or February will be taken up by the Philippine Islands Lawn Tennis Association at its meeting Friday. The proposal will be made in view of the fact that it is not certain whether the interport series which has been conducted between Shanghai and Hongkong will be held this year.

The Philippine applied for participation in the interport series over a year ago and the application was accepted. Recently, however, the P.I.L.T.A. addressed a letter to the tennis officials of Hongkong requesting details of this year's competition and reply was received that the series will be held in Shanghai. Communication was addressed to the Shanghai officials but no reply was received.

P.I.L.T.A. officials that the competition this year would be held in Hongkong.

P.I.L.T.A. officials believe that an interport organisation which would conduct an annual tennis series between Hongkong, Shanghai, and Manila would serve to stir up a great deal of interest in tennis in this section of the world and would provide some outside competition. Should the proposal to invite Shanghai and Hongkong to play here early next year be approved at Friday's meeting, invitations will be sent to those ports immediately so that they may make preparations.

AMERICANS LEAVE FOR HOME

SWIMMERS DEPART FROM JAPAN

GOOD IMPRESSION MADE

Yokohama, Aug. 22.

Fifteen of America's outstanding tank artists, headed by Coach Bob Kipphut of Yale left Japan to-day on their return trip home aboard the Tatsuta Maru.

The splashes were in Japan for over a fortnight.

Although defeated by Nippon's mighty swimming squad in a three-day meet at the Meiji Shrine pool, the Americans made deep impressions on Japanese sports followers.

Sports writers, following the conclusion of the meet, were unanimous in asserting that only the absence of several of the outstanding American stars kept them from winning.

The Meiji pool meet was the only competition engaged in by the Americans although they gave two exhibitions.

LOVELOCK BEATEN

HIS SECOND DEFEAT BY S. C. WOODERSON

ATTACK ON MILE RECORD

(By FRED DARTNELL)

London, Aug. 5. There were memorable scenes on Saturday at the Glasgow Rangers' big sports meeting. Over 50,000 spectators at Ibrox Park saw Jack Lovelock beaten for the second time this season by S. C. Wooderson.

Three weeks ago Wooderson had wrested Lovelock's British mile championship from him at the White City. At the A.A.A. dinner after the meeting Lovelock made a graceful acknowledgment of Wooderson's triumph, but added that it would never occur again.

The implied threat failed to come off in the race specially framed to break the Wooderson or Lovelock record. The latter's British record of 4 min. 12 sec. made at Oxford three years ago. Neither of them, running from scratch, won the race, which went to A. V. Reeve of the Poly, who off the 25 yards mark returned 4 min. 10 sec, time good enough to suggest the scratch men if he had started level with them.

Riddell, the Scottish champion, who had 35 yards start, was second in 4 min. 11 sec., but so far as the huge crowd was concerned the real race was between Wooderson and Lovelock, who finished third and fourth in 4 min. 12-10 sec., and 4 min. 15-3-5 sec., respectively. A gap of nearly 20 yards separated the two stars at the finish.

Wooderson failed by 7-10 sec. to equal Lovelock's British record, but he beat the New Zealand record of 4 min. 13-2-5 sec., which was achieved at the Rangers' meeting two years ago.

I thought Lovelock seemed a trifle anxious and restless before the start, but Wooderson, an astonishingly grave person for one of his years, was ideally composed.

The first lap was covered in 51-1-5 sec. by Lovelock, who found Wooderson reversing his usual policy of making the pace. This time Wooderson hung on closely to his great rival and at the half-mile (2 min. 7-1-10) he was still dogging like fury the flying heels of the man who was out for revenge. Lovelock's thoughts might well be imagined as he raced away.

SUPREME EFFORT

We waited breathlessly for the crisis. Suddenly, 200 yards from home, Wooderson launched his blow. Coming towards the finish bend, he shot away like an arrow to gain a couple of yards lead. As he passed Lovelock the latter threw a half-startled glance at his rival and a second or two later made a supreme effort to turn the tables.

Lovelock's face was deathly white and his expression was drawn as he forced himself to the shoulders of Wooderson. He could do no better, but the Blackheath lad disdained lengthened his stride and swept through to the end, complete master of the man he had defeated from the championship.

Lovelock who at 5st. 6lb. weighs a stone more than Wooderson, was well beaten, but he made no excuses. In congratulating Wooderson he said: "I had had a fortnight's rest and had tried to build myself up, but it was no use, you were too good!"

FIRST TEAM TO WIN ESPLEN CUP

ENGLISHMEN MAY VISIT COLONY

TO RECAIN THE TROPHY

London, Aug. 3. A team of members of the Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association, for the first time gained a victory over Wanstead Bowling Club in the annual match for the "Esplen" Cup, on Friday evening, winning by 15 shots to 14 shots.

The match was played on the Wanstead Green.

It was the sixth annual match played between the two clubs, and the fourth in which the "Esplen" Cup has been competed for.

VISITORS ENTERTAINED

After the match, the visitors, together with their ladies, were entertained to supper in the Golf Club house which was once more kindly lent by Wanstead Golf Club. Mr. William Stuart, president of Wanstead Bowling Club, welcomed the visitors on behalf of the club, and remarked that he was always pleased to welcome the Hongkong team.

This year, for the first time, the visitors were going to take the cup back to Hongkong, and he was glad that they had an opportunity of doing so.

It had been a very enjoyable game and he thought that it might offer an opportunity to some of the more well-to-do Wanstead members to visit Hongkong and re-escape the cup.

Mr. Stewart handed the cup to Mr. S. Handle, skip of the Hongkong bowlers.

Mr. Handle, in reply, thanked the members of the Wanstead Club for their hospitality.

He only wished that more Hongkong members could have been present to witness the match.

Mr. Handle remarked that he was under the impression that the cup was given for annual competition at the Wanstead Club only.

THANKS TO MR. A. MCNEISH

In conclusion, he referred to the work of Mr. A. McNeish, who always helped considerably in organising the match.

Three other members of the Hongkong team, Mr. J. F. Lunny, Mr. G. E. Elliot-Hayward, and Dr. V. N. Atienza, all spoke briefly and thanked the Wanstead Club for their warm welcome.

Mr. Roberto Leeder, honorary secretary of the Wanstead Club, proposed the toast of "The Ladies," and gave a short account of the matches that had been played with Hongkong for the "Esplen" Cup.

The trophy was given in 1931 by Mr. James J. Esplen, O.B.E., who was president of the club at that time, after Mr. McNeish had brought some Hongkong visitors to Wanstead to play bowls, and the cup had been competed for each year since then.

The scores were: Hongkong: Messrs. J. F. Lunny, Atienza and Handle (skip) 16; Wanstead: Messrs. F. Curtis, R. L. Leeder, A. Love and W. Nicholas (skip) 14.—The Express and Independent.

ALLISON AND VAN RYN SECURE TITLE

BEAT MAKO AND BUDGE

U.S. TENNIS FINAL

Brookline, Aug. 26. Gene Mako and Donald Budge, the youthful American Lawn Tennis combination, fully justified their reputation of being the second best doubles pair in the United States when they extended the Wimbledon runners-up, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, in the final of the U. S. Doubles Championships to-day.

In many quarters Mako and Budge are considered an even better combination than America's Davis Cup doubles team as they have previously beaten, not only Allison and Van Ryn, but also L. R. Stoefer and G. M. Lott, Wimbledon champions of a year ago.

To-day's match went to the full five sets before the winners were able to claim the title. The scores were 6-4, 6-2, 3-6, 2-6, 6-1.—Reuter.

MIXED DOUBLES TITLE

Brookline, Aug. 26. In the final of the Mixed Doubles Championship, Mrs. Sarah Palfrey-Fabryan (America) and Enrique G. Maier (Spain) beat Miss Katharine Stammers.

BOWLS FINAL POSTPONED

MEDINA UNABLE TO PLAY

The final of the Open Lawn Bowls Pairs Championship which was fixed for this afternoon, has had to be postponed as M. J. Medina, one of the players, is unable to play.

The match is between L. A. R. Duncan and R. Duncan, of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club, and M. J. Medina and J. Cavanagh, of the Craigengower C. C.

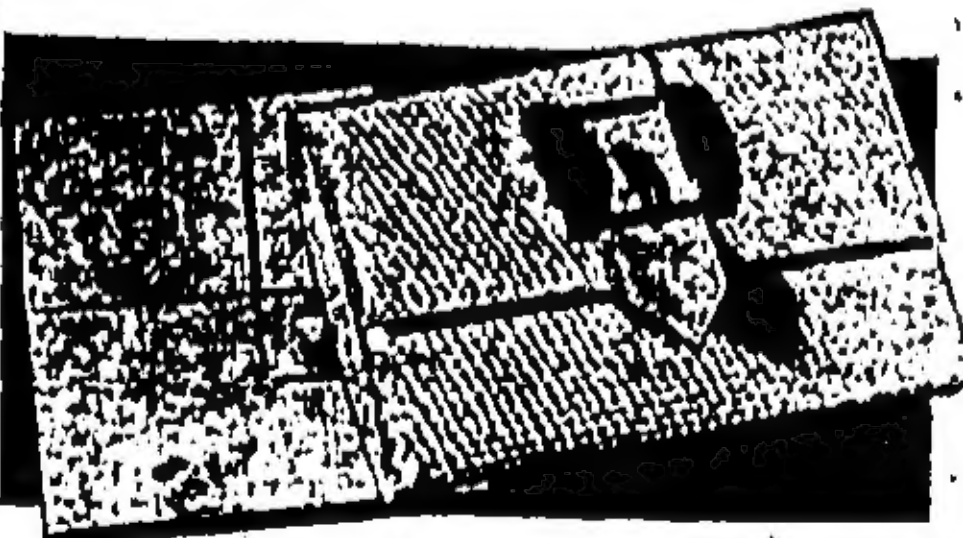

The fixture has accordingly been re-arranged for next Tuesday and will be played on the Civil Service C.C. green, commencing at 4.30 p.m.

(Great Britain) and Roderick Menzel (Czechoslovakia) 6-3, 3-6, 6-4.—Reuter.

The Men's and Women's Singles Championships will commence at Forest Hills on Thursday and conclude on September 6.

A rare incident in club cricket occurred on Saturday, August 3 when three centuries were scored in an innings, H. Hutchison making 102, J. W. Levy 101 and P. J. M. Nelson 102 not out for Finchley against Southgate.

MUSPRATT WINS AT WIMBLEDON

CHAMPION OF THE ROYAL NAVY

LAWN TENNIS TITLE

Buzzard, who had won an easy morning match, before the day was much older. Both semi-finals were accordingly postponed until this morning at 10.30.

A ONE SHOT PLAYER

Mockler, who was admitted to the qualifying competition for Wimbledon this year, but failed to qualify, is what is usually known as a one-shot player. He has a really forceful forehand punch, which he controls well by imparting a fair amount of "hook" to it, and runs round his backhanders whenever he can. He rarely volleys, unless forced to do so, and then plays the ball with almost precisely the same action as he employs when playing it off the floor.

Vavasseur, who has figured prominently before now in the Navy's junior singles, and is still competing in them, is more of an all-round player, and will probably outstrip Mockler before he is much older. He was not deterred from playing a virile volleying game by Mockler's big drives, and was as good a loser as I have ever watched in a service match. His last-ditch effort in the final set was particularly fine. Mockler only needed one point for 6-0, but Vavasseur held him at bay for that game, and three more after that, only capitulating (after saving another match point) at 6-4.

Lieut. Hoare showed how his game has improved by the way in which he beat Cdr. Agnew, who was runner-up to Cdr. Glover last year, by 6-3, 6-1, and will to-day meet Lieut. Muspratt, whose defeat of Lieut. Cdr. Chevallier was less easily achieved. I expect that the winner of the Buzzard v. Mockler match will be the new champion of the Royal Navy and the Royal Marines.

A DESERVED WIN

The championship of the Royal Navy and the Royal Marines was won yesterday deservedly, but perhaps a little unexpectedly, by Lt. Muspratt, who beat Sub-Lt. Cdr. Mockler in the final by 6-3, 10-8. The loser was the victim of a man of undoubted merit. He was also to some extent the victim of circumstances. It was necessary to play the semi-final in the morning and the final in the afternoon, and Muspratt came up for the fray in the afternoon fresher than his fellow finalist.

He is strongly built, but a quick mover, and obviously one of those tireless people who can at times be too very tireless. He had had a tough job in the morning to beat Lt. Hoare, and only took the first set at 10-8 after each man had held the "vantage game" almost an equal number of times. Muspratt eventually got it once too often for Hoare. After this Hoare rather faded away, as sometimes happens to the loser of a very long first set, and Muspratt was not much the worse for wear.

In the meantime Mockler was waging a desperate battle with Commander Buzzard, who, strictly according to the book, was the man who was going to win. He failed because of a curious and, to me, quite inexplicable lack of power to clinch a longish lead.

I detected a certain amount of carelessness, which is more politely described as lack of concentration, when he was in a winning position. After winning the first set at 7-5, Buzzard only wanted a point for 4-1 in the second, but lost it, and, though still a service game to the good, squandered his lead, and eventually allowed Mockler to break him again for 7-5. Mockler's tenacity was remarkable. He relied almost entirely upon that vicious forehand hook of his, and eventually it carried him home. Buzzard actually led by 5-2 and 40-15 in the final set, but lost it, and, upon my word, stubbornly though Mockler played, Buzzard only had himself to blame, though some of Mockler's passing shots in the last few games, bordered on the magnificent. This match lasted for about an hour and 50 minutes.

FORCING THE PACE

When he came to play Muspratt shortly after 2 p.m. Mockler soon began to show traces of his grim uphill fight of the morning against an opponent who, spinning the situation, was out to force the pace for all he was worth and whose crisp and clever volleying helped him to do it successfully. It was level pegging up to the eighth game, when Muspratt won Mockler's service for 5-3 and went out on his own 6-3—something of an omens.

There were vicissitudes in the second set and captures and recaptures (twice) of service game while they were going to 7-7. Overcome by nausea as the result of his exertion and the extreme heat, Mockler had to stop playing for a bit, but he was soon up and doing again. He lost his service for 7-8 but captured Muspratt's for 8-8, only a reprieve, for Muspratt in a strong finish went out 10-8—a fine scrap in which both played themselves automatically into the Navy's team.

The next doubles championship also changed hands, the holders, Com-

MISUNDERSTANDING CAUSED
A misunderstanding has arisen between several members of the C.B.C. and the V.R.C. in connection with the championships. On account of their failure to turn up for the heats, they have been disqualified.

The swimmers affected are Leung Shui-man and Tang Ho-fuk in the 20 yards free style, and Mui Chee-chung in the 100 yards free style. Heats were to have been held last Friday, but as there were insufficient entries present when names were called, no heats were required for the 50 yards and the 100 yards.

The Chinese complain that they were not notified that the heats were to be swum off, but Mr. C. A. Lopes, Hon. Secretary of the V.R.C., states that the day of the heats was given on every entry form.

Commander Dawson and Commander Agnew, being beaten in a breezy final by their more youthful adversaries, Commander Buzzard and Sub-Lieutenant Vavasseur, by 7-5, 6-3, after which Vavasseur went on to win the junior singles, beating Cadet Rigby by 6-3, 6-2. Nobody in this event had succeeded in taking a set off him.

SERIAL STORY

One I Love

By LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TO-DAY

JANET HILL and ROLF CARLYLE have been engaged almost a year. They have put off their marriage because Janet insists they must have $100 in a savings account first. Janet works as a secretary to BRUCE HAMILTON, advertising manager of every Home Magazine, and ROLF is employed at an advertising agency.

Janet, deeply in love, is not suspicious when ROLF begins to make excuses for not coming to see her. The night he breaks an engagement with her, MOLLY LAMBERT, who lives across the hall, tells Janet she has seen Janet entering a theatre with another girl. Janet insists ROLF next day after work and tells him what Molly has said. ROLF becomes angry and that if Janet really wanted to marry him she would have done so long ago. They quarrel. Janet is miserable. She hopes ROLF will call but he does not. Making an effort to forget her unhappiness, she asks Molly to go to a movie with her. While Molly is in the picture, Janet picks up a newspaper and sees a picture that stuns her.

CHAPTER IX

Where, Janet asked herself, had she seen the face before? Such a pretty girl with dark, curling hair, eyes that were wide set and fringed with deep lashes. She was as young as Janet, perhaps younger. Where in the world?

All at once she remembered. This was the girl she had seen entering the Brewster Coffee Shop—the girl with the young man who looked like ROLF. Janet studied the picture closely. Yes, it was certainly then, her head turned in half-profile exactly as the photographer had caught this picture. Oh, there was no doubt of it.

The picture was one of four, grouped in what in a newspaper office is known as a "layout." The caption above read, "Society Buds Forgive Parties for Jobs in Stores and Offices." Beneath the picture of the girl with the dark hair were the words, "Miss Betty Kendall, above, daughter of Mr. E. K. Curtis, and a member of the Junior Guild, has embarked on a career in the field of advertising."

Advertising! Janet scanned the columns of type. "Young women," "At least a dozen," "prominent in Lancaster's younger social set are forsaking parties and club meetings these days to work in offices and stores, and even to show real estate to prospective clients. They are writing advertising copy and telling people how to decorate their homes is far more interesting than a round of bridge playing and dancing."

That was not what Janet wanted to know. She skimmed several paragraphs that came to this: "Miss Betty Kendall, who is one of the most popular members of the Junior Guild, has chosen the field of advertising and is now employed in the office of the Atlas Advertising Co., of which her uncle, Dwight R. Kendall, is vice president. Miss Kendall attended Miss Mayberry's School from which she was graduated last spring."

Betty Kendall—employed by the Atlas Advertising Co. Dwight Kendall's niece!

Janet looked at the picture again. Her memory flashed back to that Saturday afternoon—10 days ago—when she had passed the Brewster Hotel in her way to lunch. She saw the girl in the dark fur coat and the young man beside her. The and the scene reappeared exactly as it had happened—the girl looking smiling, the man with the door of the Coffee Shop. The couple, of course, were on their way to a luncheon date. She even felt again the stab of amazement that had come over her when she had thought she recognized ROLF.

But it had been ROLF. Of course it had. ROLF and Betty Kendall, this it had. ROLF who was playing at society girl in the same office where he worked. Oh, why did girls from rich homes have to do such things? Why couldn't they leave the jobs for those who needed them? Why couldn't those who leave the jobs alone girls—

"But ROLF told me he wasn't there. He said I was mistaken," Janet recalled herself. Had he? Had ROLF really put that denial into that she had only said something that Janet took to mean the thing? Janet wasn't sure. She couldn't remember about that starting down at the picture of this other girl. The ache in Janet's heart was almost like physical pain. She had forgotten everything except that ROLF did not want thing to be engaged to her any more. She had forgotten that she and Molly Lambert were going to the movies. Molly, before the mirror, added a final, hasty dab of powder to her nose and turned. Just as soon as I get my hat on low," she said, the sentence dying away unfinished. She picked up a brown hat with a green feather on it and pulled it down over her head.

"Molly!"

"The other whirled. 'Molly, I want you to look at this.'"

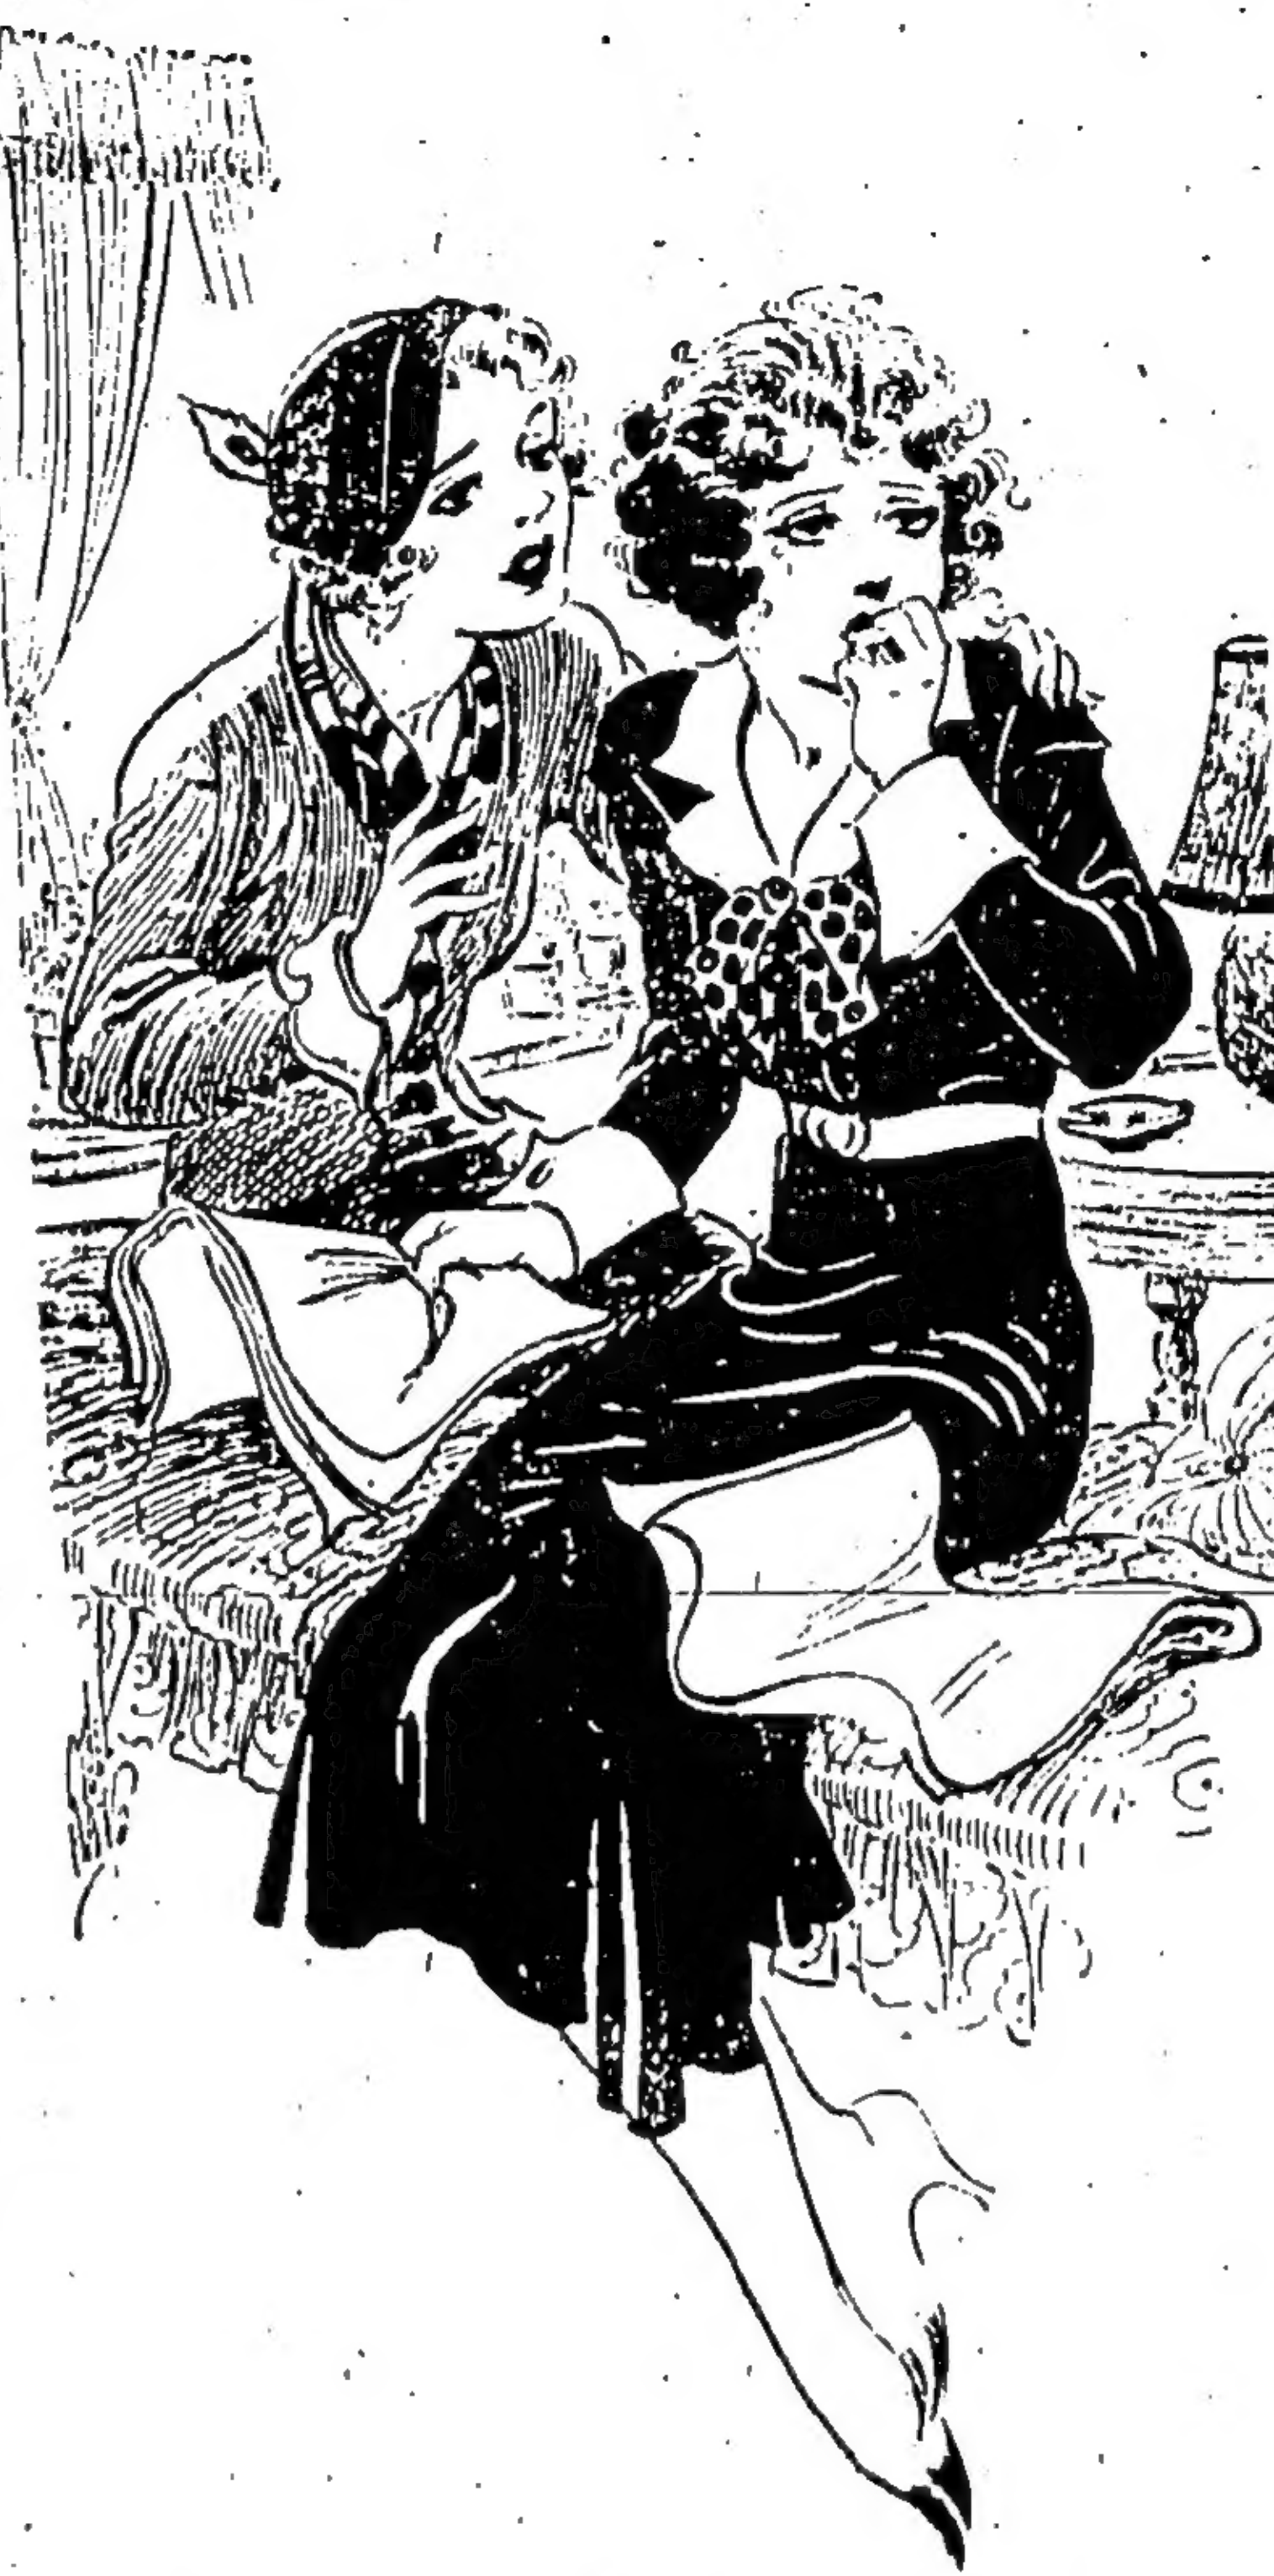

"Look at what?"

"She pointed to Janet's side. It was the picture of Betty Kendall, smiling out of the newspaper page, that Janet held up."

"Did you ever see her?" Janet asked.

Molly frowned. "Don't think so. What's her name?" Then she read aloud, "Betty Kendall." For an instant Molly was silent, pursing her lips. All at once she said, "Oh—" with a swift intake of breath as though she meant to suppress the exclamation.

Molly put a hand on the other girl's shoulder. "Don't worry, honey," she said.

"Where did you see her?" Janet persisted.

"I'm not sure," the other girl said slowly. "I—well, she's honest, she looks something like that girl I saw ROLF with the other night. But maybe I'm mistaken. I wouldn't want to swear to it."

"That's what it is," Janet said quickly. "She's working in the same office where ROLF works. Her uncle is vice president of the company."

"Vice president? Then what's she working for?"

"Because," Janet bitterly. "It's fashionable to work these days. All the society buds are doing it. See—that's what the paper says. Oh, you're right about it, Molly. That's the girl!"

Molly Lambert was older than Janet. She plumped down beside the younger girl. "Listen," Molly said earnestly. "Maybe I should have said what I did the other night. I mean about ROLF. Gee, I didn't want to start any trouble! You—well, you haven't been looking quite like yourself, Janet. I've been worried. I afraid maybe you and ROLF had had a row or something. Is there anything wrong?"

"No. Nothing."

Molly seemed relieved. Well, I'm glad to hear that," she said. "You know it doesn't really mean anything if the boy friend wants to step out on a date now and then. People don't feel the way they used to about things like that. I mean even when you're engaged."

"But we're not," Janet put in quickly. "ROLF's free to do anything he wants to—"

"You're not engaged? You mean you've broken it off?"

The other girl nodded.

"Oh, but Janet, that's terrible! Oh, I hope it wasn't because of what I told you!"

"It wasn't your fault," Janet assured her. With a touch of the bitter humour she had voiced a moment before she went on, "ROLF and I are different. We—well, we don't like the same things. He wants a good time and I don't care about that. The whole thing was a mistake."

Her words rose hysterically, then broke off. Janet's lips trembled and she turned away quickly. It was the first time she had told anyone that her engagement was at an end. She had been repeating ROLF's words, almost literally.

"But that's all nonsense!" Molly said heatedly. "Why, I thought you and ROLF were crazy about each other!"

"Well, we're not. We're not going to see each other any more!"

Molly put a hand on the other girl's shoulder. "Don't worry, honey. I'll all come out all right. He'll be back more in love with you than ever."

Janet shook her head. "I haven't seen him for a week," she said. "I thought maybe he'd telephone or drop in at the office or something but he hasn't."

hasn't. It's this other girl. He's probably with her now."

"Well, then, give him a taste of the same medicine! What you ought to do is step out with some other fellows. Show him you don't care!"

"Maybe you're right," Janet agreed. "Maybe I should."

But she knew in her heart she couldn't do that. She didn't want to go out with other young men. How could she laugh and talk gaily when her heart was like lead?

Suddenly Janet aroused herself. She said with a smile that only half succeeded, "Say, weren't we going to the movies? We'll never get there unless we get started."

"That's right," Molly agreed. "Come on!"

They chose the Princess down town with its ebony and silver foyer and its plush seats instead of the neighbourhood movie house. The last time Janet had gone to the neighbourhood theatre she had met with ROLF and she didn't want to be reminded of that evening. However, the leading man in the film she and ROLF had seen and it was useless to try to forget that other evening.

"You poor kid!" Molly exclaimed later as they said, "Good-night. You'll be back soon, won't you?"

Would she? If she did see ROLF would she say? Janet had puzzled over this problem often with the thought of a decision. Suppose one coming to a decision. Suppose she telephoned or she met him on the street. What should she say? Three nights later she was to know the answer.

MODERN WOMEN

INTERESTING LECTURE ON THEIR EMPLOYMENT

"Because well-to-do families at home think it would be a good thing for their daughter 'Marianne' to work in a hat or dress shop for pocket money, thousands of working girls must look for jobs elsewhere. This strange criticism of 'pin money' workers at home, who, like many of their sisters in Hongkong, have been the subject of some comment for several years, was made yesterday by Mr. L. W. B. Teeling in an interesting address on 'Women and Unemployment' given to the members of the Women's International Club.

Mr. Teeling criticised the type of girl who works simply for pin money or to fill in time as one who could be better employed working for charity and letting her less fortunate sisters find employment.

Following his introduction to the members of the Club by Lady Southorn, Mr. Teeling said:

Ever Started Trouble

"I am not married and, as far as I know, not engaged, I have no sisters or mother. In other words, I see very little, except in an informal way, the opposite sex. That being so, I believe I can speak freely about them.

"I cannot help feeling that trouble started in the world with Eve, and more trouble arose when machinery was developed. With the combination of machinery and women it strikes me that men will soon find themselves in an almost impossible position.

"Machinery is so well developed today that anyone can be employed on it, and in the future it will be worked far more easily. It does not need man's strength, but quick hands and quick brains which seem to have been women's privilege for a long time.

"Women charge considerably less for labour in most countries of the world than men. In two towns of Great Britain, the men there are kept by their women folk. It is now going to the limit that men are not employed and the women work in the potteries, etc.

"Women, therefore, have got something to answer for in the present trouble. If you are really going to keep men in work you have got to realise your responsibilities.

"When man has no work to do, he definitely degenerates. Therefore, if you are going to go into business, to go into factories, if you are going to insist that women should work, then you must take on the other responsibilities that you have got to do some of the other things which women have done in the past.

Viennese Activity

"In Vienna, they are organising and studying conditions. It is slightly Germanic, but Viennese happen to be more than German. They are where studies are made of the conditions and methods of dealing with them. The Viennese have been looking for employment for the past nine years. Reports in German of this village contain some of the most gruesome stories. The condition of the men is very little different from that of cannibals. They have been unemployed for a certain number of years, they have nothing to do, they have come to the point of starvation. They are not interested—they do not bother. You give them something to do, but they don't finish it.

"In certain English towns, the women there started organisations to help the men. But they quickly lost interest—they have got the stamina left. Even the children's ambitions are sinking.

"The only people who are remaining more or less as they were are the women, and the reason is that when it comes to the question of work it is the women who have to work. When the men are out of work, the women have to scrape everything together. They have got to scrub and wash, look after the children and keep the place going. The more unemployed there is for men, the more work there is for women.

"In Vienna, 800 men are building houses on a large area of land. When the district has been built, the men will draw lots for the houses. From there, the men will go into the towns to get work and the women will look after the houses and communal vegetable patches.

"In Vienna also, the richer type of women have started serving food to the unemployed. Middle class and upper class women are serving, washing, cooking and waiting together.

German Labour Camps

"In Germany, there are women's labour camps where they work on neighbouring farms, sew the men's uniforms and wash. They are given lectures on economic problems and are taught to cook.

"The middle class women in Germany are mixed up in organisations, and a third type include the young girls who insist on making their young men drill, exercise, attend lectures and wear Nazi uniforms. They are different from the English girl, who likes being taken out only by the youths who possess sports cars, etc.

"In France and Australia, when dealing with the question of unemployment, you have to mention birth control. In Australia, they are not doing anything to increase the population, and they do not want newcomers. In France, the foreigners are Italians, Belgians or Poles. Next to nothing has been done there with the unemployment question, because the problem has not been a French one.

"In Italy, the women have been put out of work that men can do and have returned to their homes. At this point, Mr. Teeling criticised the 'pin money' workers at home who keep less fortunate girls out of jobs.

Selfish Middle Class

"The middle class women at home," he continued, "are getting more and more selfish. They are better off, but the more money they get the harder becomes their fight to be better off."

CHINA AND JAPAN

DEVELOPMENT OF NORTH CHINA

Shanghai, Aug. 26.
Of political importance is the expected arrival this morning from Tientsin of Mr. Wang Keh-min, the acting Chairman of the Peiping Political Council and successor of General Huang Fu.

Newspapers here report that Mr. Wang Keh-min, who is a well known financial expert, former Finance Minister of the old Peiping Government and former Managing-Director of the Bank of China 1917 to 1918, will discuss with Mr. Wang Ching-wei and leading members of the Marshal Chiang Kai-shek's party plans for Sino-Japanese economic co-operation in North China.

The same report further states that Sino-Japanese co-operation to develop North China engineering and economic enterprises was recently discussed by Marshal Chiang Kai-shek during his last flying visit to Nanking with the Standing Committee members of the Kuomintang Central Executive Committee.

A Changchun report recently mentioned the formation of a scientific investigation committee nicknamed the "Brain Trust" to work out the problems of industrial development in North China with the co-operation of Chinese and the people of Manchukuo.

Japanese Tax Exemption?

Japanese residents of Chinese areas in the northern district need not pay the taxes they have been assessed by the Finance Bureau of the Greater Shanghai City Government, the Japanese Consulate-General announced through the Japanese press in Shanghai recently.

This attitude was based on the ground that the Chinese authorities had not yet secured the understanding of the consular officials.

According to the newspapers, the tax bills asked for payment between July 1 and July 31, and said that a 2 per cent. fine would be imposed in case of default.

The rates were 12 per cent. of the rentals paid on residences and 14 per cent. of those on factories and shops.

Japan Considering

Nanking, Aug. 26.
In response to Mr. Wang Ching-wei's summons by telegram, Mr. Wang Keh-min, accompanied by his wife and two daughters arrived from Peiping this morning to discuss North China affairs with him.

Mr. Wang Keh-min, who was a visitor here that after a few days he was proceeding to Mokanshan to see General Huang Fu.

With regard to the murder of Colonel Liu Tso-chow, he stated that since the principal culprit had been apprehended no further complications are likely to arise with the Japanese.—Reuter.

"No Negotiations"

Nanking, Aug. 26.
"No negotiations have been conducted between the Chinese and the Japanese authorities regarding the economic co-operation in North China, as Japan is still making investigations and observations," declared Mr. Wang Keh-min, on his arrival here this morning from Peiping.

Soon after his arrival at Nanking, Mr. Wang Keh-min called on Mr. Wang Ching-wei at the latter's official residence, and submitted a report on conditions in North China. The interview lasted one hour and twenty minutes.

At an interview with the representative of Central News Agency, Mr. Wang Keh-min said that he was summoned by Mr. Wang Ching-wei to come to Nanking.

With regard to the assassination of Col. Liu Tso-chow, Mr. Wang Keh-min stated that a clue has been found which may lead to the apprehension of the assassins.

Commenting on the detention of Mr. Tao Shang-ming by the Military Attaché of the Japanese Embassy in Peiping, Mr. Wang Keh-min said that the incident, "was beyond expectation." He added that Mr. Tao was freed after negotiations with the Japanese authorities.

Mr. Wang Keh-min will make a brief stay here, after which he will proceed to Mokanshan where he will interview Mr. Huang Fu. He will return to Peiping next month.—Central News Agency.

than 'Mrs. Snooks' who lives next door. They no longer give money to charitable organisations or for unemployment funds.

"If unemployment is to be solved at home, we must have migration to the Dominions. The women out there, however, don't want newcomers, and the women at home don't want to leave or to let their husbands go. The pioneer spirit is fast disappearing among the lower classes in Great Britain.

In concluding the lecture, Mr. Teeling urged that the women in Hongkong should get to know those who come from Canada, New Zealand and Australia in order to foster the British Empire co-operation spirit. In turn, he said, it is up to us all to let the women in England know of our difficulties out here.

He made a final plea for the women of the British Empire to know one another.

CONSTABLE CHARGED

TWO CHARGES OF PROCURING BRIBES FAIL

Munsha Singh, Indian constable No. 768, attached to the Vanchai Police Station, charged on five counts of procuring (or causing to be obtained) bribes, assault and unlawful arrest, was yesterday afternoon discharged by Mr. W. Schofield, at the Central Magistrate, on the first two charges relating to bribery.

The defendant was charged with having on July 28, at Spring Garden Lane, unlawfully procured or caused to be obtained for him by Kwok Siu-so, bribes of two cents each from Ng Pui and Lo Kam, and three cents from Li Chung, and further, with having assaulted Li Chung at Tai Yuen Street, and with having, without good or sufficient cause, arrested Li Chung.

Mr. W. P. Thompson, Assistant Superintendent of Police, appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. M. A. da Silva for the defendant.

Kwok Siu-so, unemployed, was also charged with having obtained from Ng Pui two cents as a bribe on behalf of Munsha Singh. He pleaded guilty to the charge at the first hearing, and sentence was deferred until the case against Munsha Singh was heard.

At yesterday's hearing, Detective Sergeant Pitches and Acting Sub-Inspector Kelly were recalled by the prosecuting officer to emphasise the point of what charges the defendant, Munsha Singh, had wanted to bring against Li Chung at the Police Station.

Both officers said that first defendant wanted to bring a charge of hawking without a licence, and later obstruction, but they did not hear him say he wanted to charge Li Chung with resisting arrest. This concluded the case for the prosecution.

Defence Submissions

Mr. Silva then submitted to His Worship that the defendant had no case to answer on the first four charges, and the case, he said, should never have been brought into Court at all. The reasons for his submission were that the whole case for the prosecution against the defendant was dependent on the evidence of the defendant's co-defendant, Kwok Siu-so. As regards other evidence, there was only the point that an Indian had been in the vicinity when these attempts to obtain bribes had been made.

Mr. Silva further submitted that the evidence of an accomplice must be corroborated, and in all cases where such evidence was uncorroborated, the Judge invariably would direct a Jury not to lay any weight on such evidence, and a verdict of not guilty would usually be brought in.

Trap Laid for Constable

Mr. Silva then went into detail into the evidence given by Kwok Siu-so, pointing out the discrepancies made to the Police, and then submitted that there was very much in the evidence to support his submission that Kwok was taking advantage of the Indian being in the vicinity to go round and collect money from hawkers for himself, and secondly, that the defendant was very much disliked by the hawkers in that district because he had brought many of them to Court, and because of that, enquiries were made, and it was ascertained he was going on his beat that day, and a trap laid for him.

All the evidence, said Mr. Silva, was just as much in support of that version as of the defendant being guilty; in fact, more in support of the fact that Kwok was the guilty party. All the evidence produced was really circumstantial evidence, and there must only be one inference, and that that somebody else was guilty. Under the circumstances, he would suggest the defendant had no case to answer.

Mr. Schofield agreed that the first two charges were weakly supported, and there was no direct evidence that money was collected with the defendant's knowledge except for Kwok's own word, and that was unreliable. He therefore dismissed the charges, but he thought the defendant had a case to answer on the other three charges.

Mr. Silva asked for an adjournment, and the hearing was accordingly fixed for 2.30 p.m. on August 29.

CANTON-NANKING

WANG SHAO-HUNG GOES TO THE NORTH

Canton, August 26.
Nanking-Canton rapprochement prospects continue to look bright, and the obstacles from Kwangsi have apparently been removed.

General Li Chung-jen, the Kwangsi leader, has been in conference with the local leaders since his arrival from Nanning, and his return to Canton itself indicates that Kwangsi is prepared to support a re-union scheme.

While the outcome of the negotiations remain undivulged, observers believe that the mission of General Wang Shao-hung, the Governor of Chekiang, and former Governor of Kwangsi, who is now en route back to the North, have been successful.

It is hoped that Nanking-Canton-Kwangsi co-operation will be realised shortly.—Reuter.

Banquet for Gen. Wang

A banquet was given by General Chan Chai-tong for Generals Li Chung-jen and Wang Shao-hung, the Chekiang Provincial governor, on Sunday evening at the General's private residence in Canton. The dinner was attended by Messrs. Chow Lu, Lin Yun-ko, Au Fong-po, and other military and civilian officers.

BRITAIN WON'T TOLERATE BLOCKADE OF AFRICA

WOULD RESIST WITH FORCE QUESTION OF ARMS EXPORTS

WON'T ALLOW ITALIANS TO SEARCH SHIPS

(SPECIAL TO "TELEGRAPH")

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1924. Received, Aug. 27, 11.30 a.m.)

London, Aug. 27.
Well-informed diplomats to-day declared that Great Britain proposes forcible resistance to any attempted Italian naval blockade of North-east Africa.

Furthermore, Great Britain is ready to frustrate any effort on the part of the Italian Government to search British or other neutral vessels for arms or other material.

Meanwhile, Italian newspapers have been giving much prominence to reports of British fleet movements in the Mediterranean and Rear Admiral Ciano, the Italian naval war hero, has volunteered his services for the defence of Italian waters wherever the most serious threat is seen. Britain, however, has denied that she is moving any large warship tonnage to Malta.—United Press.

Paris, Aug. 26.

Those in France and elsewhere, but especially in Britain, who imagine that Mussolini is bluffing, will be forced to admit they are wrong after reading Mussolini's declaration to the Daily Mail. This is the view expressed in semi-official circles.

Il Duce has said, these authorities continue, that if sanctions are voted against Italy she will immediately leave the League and that whoever applies them will be met by Italy's armed hostility. The Italian attitude, say the French, lends support to the argument of Paris diplomats, who deprecate recourse to sanctions.

The French policy remains: no stone shall be left unturned by France in trying to localise the conflict and maintain as far as possible a friendly understanding between Paris, London and Rome. Above all it is the aim of French statesmen to prevent the spreading of the inevitable hostilities in Africa to Europe, this source asserts.

Labour has a different view of the case. "The whole Covenant, and nothing but the Covenant," is the slogan of these organisations. A mixed committee representing the International Workers' Federation has confirmed the resolution demanding that the League Covenant and peace treaties shall be respected in every part. The resolution supports the ultimate imposition of sanctions against Italy if she makes war upon Abyssinia.

This powerful French organisation has appealed to all kindred bodies to organise demonstrations in France and abroad.—Reuter.

ITALY'S CASE

Rome, Aug. 26.

The Government is now preparing a detailed statement of the Italian case against Abyssinia to present to the League Council. The Council meets on September 4.

Official quarters are reticent regarding the reason for calling an extraordinary meeting of the Cabinet at Bolzano, stating that only administrative questions will be discussed, and that the Ethiopian and other questions of national importance will not be introduced. But it would be in keeping with Mussolini's sense of the dramatic that he should make some pronouncement regarding his intentions in Ethiopia while surrounded by his troops in North Italy.

He will be at Bolzano in connection with the army (Continued on Page 12.)

SEEKING JAPANESE SYMPATHY

STRONG ITALIAN PLEA

PARALLEL COURSES

Rome, Aug. 26.

A striking plea for Italian-Japanese understanding was made to-day in the Giorale d'Italia, commenting on the telegram sent from Tokyo to the effect that public opinion was coming round to a better understanding of the Italian viewpoint with regard to Ethiopia.

The paper declares it is impossible for Italy and Japan to be at loggerheads in view of the fact that their development is along similar lines. Both need new territory so the growing populations can expand and find natural riches denied them at home.

Both found the door shut to them after the Great War, and both found themselves faced with the resistance of the League of Nations, which denied them the right to fulfil the needs of a dynamic population.

The identical nature of the Italian and Japanese problems must lead the nations to political solidarity, the paper pursues the theme; they must be united against opposing forces. Italy's action in Ethiopia would in no way interfere with the interests of Japan because Italy seeks in Ethiopia only security, and territories open to work and trade with civilised nations, and not monopolies and closed doors. Still less would these doors be closed or reasons of race.—Reuter.

NOT HANDLING CARGO

Seattle, Aug. 26.

The Longshoremen's Union to-day announced that a coast-wide poll had voted 8,388 to 1,319 in favour of renewing the present contract. However, the union voted 5,201 to 4,789 to refuse to handle cargo loaded by strikers in British Columbia.—United Press.

"Runners" Seek Free Passages

RESIST ABOLITION OF OLD CUSTOM

TEST CASE IN COURT

A test case involving the interests of four shipping companies operating on the Kongmoon run was heard before Mr. Macfadyen at the Central Police Court this morning, when 16 Chinese, eight unemployed men, a farmer and seven widows, were charged with failing to pay their fares when travelling on the steamer Yuet On from Hongmoon to Hongkong on August 26.

Detective-Sergeant H. J. Baldwin prosecuted, and the complainant was Captain A. A. Warild, master of the Yuet On, owned by the Hong Tak Steamship Company, 286 Des Voeux Road Central.

Four of the defendants pleaded guilty, saying they had no money to pay the fare. The remainder of the defendants pleaded that they offered 40 cents as fare for the journey, but this was refused.

Sergeant Baldwin informed the Court the fare from Kongmoon to Hongkong was 80 cents Chinese currency, and went on to explain that the defendants were so-called runners and had been in a habit of travelling for fare. Some without paying their fare. Some time ago the Hong Tak Steamship Company and three other shipping companies came to an agreement whereby runners were not to travel free any more, and notices were posted up in July, to take effect as from August 1.

RUNNERS' DUTIES

The runners, he added, received no payment from the companies, but merely showed country people the way to the ship leaving for Hongkong.

Last night there was a regulated attempt to over-ride the complainant's company. There were altogether 30 of these runners travelling on the Yuet On, and on her arrival at the Hongmoon wharf the police were immediately sent for.

Fourteen of the party agreed to pay the fare; some offered to pay half the fare, and others refused to pay at all.

The third defendant, Chan Luk, 26, unemployed, had $9.40; the fourth defendant, Lam Kwan, 42, farmer, had 80 cents; the sixth defendant, Wong Chau, 54, unemployed, had $1 in his possession and the twelfth defendant, Au Yee, 41, widow, had $4.40. All the money was in Chinese currency.

OLD TIME SYSTEM

Captain Warild explained that the system of carrying so-called runners was a custom dating back to the old days in China. They directed country people to the ships leaving Kongmoon and for every ten passengers the runner was given a free passage. This system had been done away with some years ago on the Canton run and three or four years ago on the Wuchow trip, the Kongmoon trip remaining. It had been recently agreed that the runners be dispensed with on the Kongmoon trip, and notices were posted up to this effect. The interests of four shipping companies were involved in the issue, and this was a test case.

Captain Warild asked his Worship to take a serious view of the case. The defendants did not travel alone as they had baggage and many baskets of merchandise.

"It is just an attempt to buck the companies' bye-laws," he remarked.

The Magistrate pointed out that the maximum fine was $25, but as this was a test case he would impose a fine of $5, or ten days' hard labour, on each of the defendants.

Girl Denies Reports Of Kidnapping

MYSTERIOUS 'PHONE MESSAGE

POLICE SEEK INFORMANT

Mercedes Ribeiro, the 17-year-old Portuguese girl who was reported to have been kidnapped in the early hours of this morning, returned to her home at 126 Lockhart Road, Wanchai, shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon. She denied that she had been kidnapped.

The girl left her home last night to go to the 9 p.m. performance at the Oriental Theatre, but did not return home. At 1.30 this morning, however, a telephone message was received at her home from a man who gave his name as Yam, saying he was the driver of motor-car No. 1259, and reporting that the girl had been kidnapped by several Chinese dressed in European-style clothing. Neither the man who sent the message nor the car could be traced by the police.

Subsequently, the police ascertained that the man who sent the message was not Yam, but another person whose identity they have been unable to establish.

The next development in the incident occurred at about 11.30 this morning, when the girl's father received a telephone message, apparently from the girl herself, telling him not to worry, and adding that she would soon return home.

After the return of the girl this afternoon, she was interrogated by the police, and stated that the reason she did not tell her father where she had gone was that it was too late to ring him up.

The police received further information from the girl, and they are now endeavouring to trace the man who sent the first telephone message.

American Congress Adjourns

LONG'S FILIBUSTER FAILURE

MIDNIGHT SESSION

Washington, Aug. 27.

Congress adjourned at midnight. Senator "Huey" Long failed to achieve anything with his filibuster, though he talked for nearly six hours. The third Deficiency Bill was not enacted. Thus the historic first session of the twenty-fourth Congress came to an end.

The House adjourned at 12.09 a.m. Washington time, after putting the clock back.

Senator Long, arch enemy of President Roosevelt and chief filibuster of Congress, arose at the last moment to frustrate the President's plan for adjournment with the Deficiency Bill enacted.

To the growing irritation of the outraged Senate, Senator Long spoke for between five and six hours, contending that he was fighting for a "principle", namely, that the House had been denied a vote in the Senate's cotton and wheat loan amendments.

The House had returned the Deficiency Bill to the Senate earlier, where administration leaders asked for unanimous consent to reconsider and withdraw the amendments. Senator Long objected and began his filibuster, repulsing all angry Senators who demanded that he yield the floor. Thus the Deficiency Bill died with it the cotton and wheat amendments.—Reuter Special.

AIR TRAFFIC INCREASES

IMPERIAL AIRWAYS FIGURES

London, Aug. 26.

The continued rapid increase of air traffic is shown by figures for passengers, freight, mails and mileage of the Imperial Airways services.

Comparing the first quarters of this year and last, the passenger ton miles were 664,835, against 367,038; freight ton miles were 127,213, against 87,811; and mails ton miles were 269,425, against 135,056, while the passenger miles total reached 5,884,234, against 3,830,609.

Still more recent statistics, referring to May this year, show an increase of 70 per cent., as compared with the similar period in 1934, in the number of Empire air passengers passing through Croydon Airport.

During the most recent twelve months for which figures are available—March 31, 1934, to April 1, 1934—air liners of Imperial Airways operating on European and Empire routes flew 2,482,864 miles and carried 65,569 passengers and over 2,000,000 pounds of mails and freight.—British Wireless.

STRONG FEELING AGAINST SOVIET

NO BENEFITS FROM RECOGNITION

MOSCOW SILENT AFTER NOTE DELIVERED

(SPECIAL TO "TELEGRAPH")

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1924. Received, Aug. 27, 8 a.m.)

Washington, Aug. 26.

It is considered that the note of protest sent to Russia yesterday, with respect to the activities of the Comintern directed against American institutions, is one of the most sharply worded since the United States ended its relations with the Central Powers in 1917.

It is noteworthy that recognition of the Soviet Government by the United States was expected to bring to America orders for heavy industry products, that it might help in the settlement of American claims against the Russian Government, that in Russia America might find in the Far East a powerful "friend in need," and that recognition would provide for official Soviet supervision and control of Communist activities within the United States.

Actually no huge commercial orders have materialised, there has been no settlement of the Russian debt, there is no assurance that Russia would be a friend in the Far East if needed, and there has been no check upon anti-American political activities.

Speeches and resolutions, aiming at the fostering and nourishing of a revolution in the United States, which have featured the meeting of the Comintern in Moscow, are considered the last straw which must break the back of American patience.

PAPERS SILENT

Moscow, Aug. 26.

Mr. Maxim Litvinoff, the Foreign Affairs Commissioner, is absent from the capital, and no official statement from the Government is forthcoming respecting the American note of protest.

The newspapers have not carried a word of the protest.

The Foreign Office declines to make even an informal statement of reaction and refused to predict when a reply could be expected.—United Press.

AMBASSADOR'S ANSWER

Washington, Aug. 26.

M. Troianovsky, the Russian Ambassador here, said Moscow would reply satisfactorily to the American protest note.

He expressed the personal opinion, however, that "anything that American citizens in Moscow say about the United States is insignificant compared with the propaganda in the United States against the Soviet."—United Press.

UNION PLEASED

New York, Aug. 26.

The president of the Longshoremen's Union, Mr. Joseph P. Ryan, applauded the American protest to the Soviet.

"Unless," he said, "we act soon, it is likely we shall have to use firearms to expel Communists from the American Labour movement, before they upset it."

He said Communists had filtered into the Army and Navy and had practically wrecked the fur workers' union.—United Press.

COTTON EXPORTS

Washington, Aug. 26.

It is learnt that Mr. Cordell Hull and Mr. Salto, the Japanese Ambassador here, are pursuing negotiations respecting a gentlemen's agreement to limit Japanese cotton textile exports to the Philippines.—Reuter.

JAPAN NEEDS MORE ROOM

EMIGRATION RIGHTS IN PACIFIC

London, Aug. 27.

The Daily Herald gives prominence to an article to-day asserting that the Japanese Government is preparing to open diplomatic negotiations with Great Britain, Holland and other powers, with the idea of securing "emigration rights in the Pacific for her surplus population."

The paper says it is thought that if Japan saw some prospect of her emigration needs being met, she might be prepared to modify matters.—Reuter.

Warning Devices For H.K. Air Raids.

REPORT BY POLICE RECOMMENDS USE IN FUTURE

A recommendation that efficient warning devices are necessary in Hongkong as one of the precautions to be observed in the event of an air raid on the Colony is contained in the Annual Report of the Inspector General of Police.

THE recommendation was made during the Inspector General's comment on the practice of preliminary precautions carried out in Hongkong on November 20 last year.

"This test was confined to extinction of lights in the principal thoroughfares and industrial centres," stated the Hon. Mr. T. H. King.

"It did not affect domestic establishments in any way, but all future tests should include all buildings of every kind."

The Report adds that excellent co-operation was given during the November tests by the various lighting companies, and by the owners of industrial centres concerned.

All available Police Reserve and Special Constables turned out for the event, in which, adds the Inspector General of Police, the population of the Colony displayed a keen interest.

Scientists Predict 2,035 Utopia

PARADISE ON EARTH

New York, Aug. 10. THIS earth of ours will become a paradise within the next 100 years, says Mr. Thomas Midgeley, president of the Association of American Chemists.

He admits that his prediction is only a theory, but he calls it a theory based on scientific fact.

Generations yet unborn, he declares, are to reap the full benefit of a great reaction to the years of crisis through which the world has passed, and in the year 2,035 war, strife, disease and unhappiness will have no meaning.

Trips To Other Planets. Communication will have been established by then with the other planets. Excursions will be run from the earth to Mars and Venus.

But will the man of the future have time for making these excursions?

Yes, because hours of work will have been reduced to the barest minimum, and wages will be comparatively high. There will be a two-hour day in all industries.

Medical science will gradually lengthen the lives of human beings. The order will be long life, little to do, and plenty of time and money for amusements. Cancer, tuberculosis, influenza and all other dangerous epidemics will have been forgotten. There will be germs, but only in medical museums.

Cities and towns will be completely free from dirt and rubbish. Public health, and sanitation will reach a stage which no body to-day could even imagine.

The toothbrush and towel will no longer be a necessity for human beings, as we shall employ newer and simpler methods for cleansing our bodies.

12,297 WENT TO GAOL LAST YEAR

MAGISTRATES HAD A BUSIER TIME

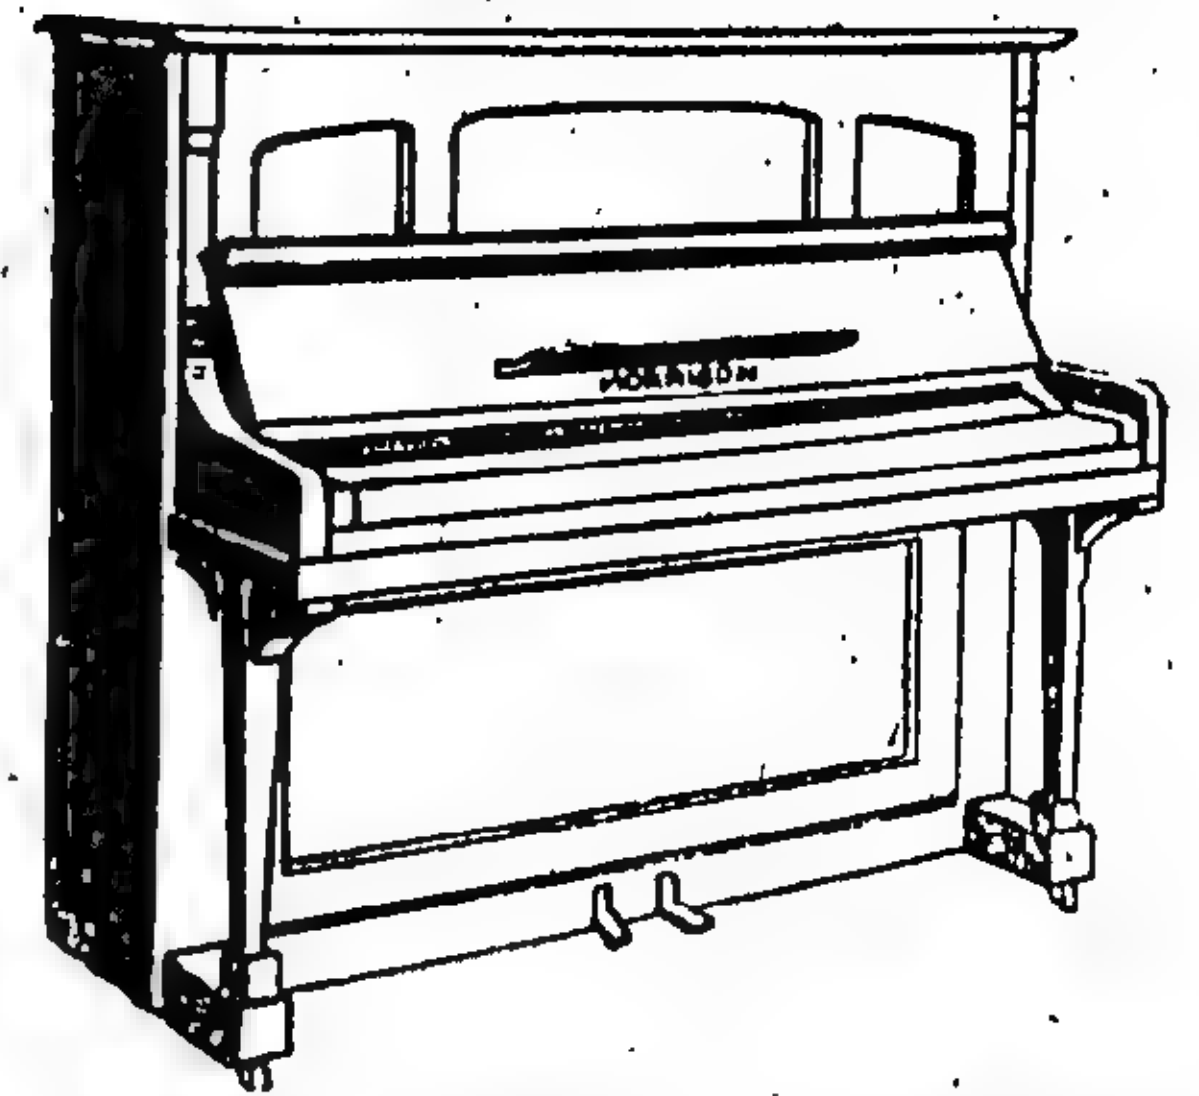

A brisk increase in magisterial convictions was recorded in Hongkong last year, 12,297 prisoners entering the iron gates of Victoria Gaol and Laichikok Prison during the year, as compared with 10,192 in 1933.

To over 1,800 of last year's new prisoners, Victoria and Laichikok were not unfamiliar residences, over 14 per cent. of the total admissions being prisoners with previous convictions.

Most of the inhabitants of the three prisons in the Colony found plenty of work to do. The most popular task seems to have been Printing and Book-binding for, according to the Annual Report of the Superintendent of Prisons, Mr. J. W. Franks, 23,333,380 forms were printed and issued to various Government Departments, while 106,499 books were bound or repaired. The total value of work done under this heading during the year was $265,869.

In addition, prisoners were employed in coal and making, net-making, tailoring, ranswork, tinsmithing, carpentering, grass-matting, shoemaking, laundry, photography, gardening and weaving.

IL DUCE
RISKS
HIS LAURELSMAY INVOLVE ITALY
IN LONG WARBy HARRY W. FRANTZ
United Press Staff Correspondent

Washington, Aug. 20.

Premier Mussolini will risk his hard-won laurels as a world statesman if and when Italian troops launch aggressive warfare against the potential million of Abyssinian hill-men, some international authorities here believe.

"Eleventh hour" caution at Rome would not cause surprise. The United States Government with a "hands-off" policy in the Italo-Abyssinian fracas has left American opinion without direction, but military and diplomatic experts have been quick to sense the great political hazards—that will attend the Italian campaign in Africa.

Mussolini's place in the front rank of world statesmen was attained, some authorities believe, by his masterly management of Italian interests on her northern and eastern frontiers. The Adriatic has become an "Italian lake," and Italian nationalism is said to be strong even in the northernmost sections.

Yugo-Slavia, Greece, Austria and Germany in turn, since the war felt the diplomatic might of Italy. But usually it was Mussolini's velvet glove and not his steel fist that brought success.

A re-direction of Italian foreign policy from the Adriatic to the Red Sea, experts point out, would give Italy two diplomatic frontiers. If Italy suffered an unforeseen military reversal, or financial attrition due to long-sustained guerilla warfare, Slavic and German peoples of Central Europe would quite naturally be moved by a new restlessness.

Adowa Lesson

Napoleon Bonaparte, say the historians, lost in Egypt the laurels that he gained in North Italy. Crisp, brilliant Italian statesman of the last century, lost post and prestige by the Italian disaster at Adowa, Abyssinia, in 1896. Britain had great difficulty defeating the Dutch in South Africa; Premier Primo Rivera of Spain lost in Morocco the prestige gained by internal policy; pro-war Germany at Agadir and in East Africa, invited the fatal challenge of British sea power.

These lessons of history account for the cool estimate here as to possible results of an Italo-Abyssinian war. Some friends of Italy fear that she may develop a military and financial "ulcer" in Africa. The Italian military disaster at Caporetto in October 1917 is still vivid in the memory of strategists. They recall the tremendous physical and moral support given to Italy in her tragic hour by England.

Optimistic adherents of Mussolini believe that he will win a prompt and smashing military decision in Abyssinia, and that Great Britain and other countries will adjust themselves reluctantly to the subsequent de facto situation as they did after the Japanese occupation of Manchuria.

Knife Best Weapon?

This optimistic view is countered by some military experts who believe that the rifle and the knife are still essential weapons of mountain warfare, and that in Abyssinia numbers of men rather than modernity of equipment may prove decisive.

The potential risk to Italy of an African politico-military adventure, analysts point out, rests upon the fact that she has attained a hegemony on her northern and eastern frontiers without precedent in modern times, but based on some circumstances that may not prove permanent.

Such circumstances are: (1) the Russian "bear" has temporarily stopped hunting the "honey-pots" of imperialistic conquest; (2) the South Slavs required the post-war decades to consolidate the nationhood attained in the war-born kingdom of Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes; (3) Greek imperialism proved abortive in Asia Minor, and (4) France has kept a relatively relaxed attitude toward Italy because of her transcending concern over Germany.

POPULAR BEVERAGE

Beer is Hongkong's most popular beverage.

Last year duty amounting to $185,157 was paid on 273,498 gallons of imported beers and ales, while an additional $53,118 was paid on 88,257 gallons of beer brewed by the Hongkong Brewers and Distillers, Ltd. The total quantity of beer imported into and made in Hongkong last year was 361,755 gallons.

Next in popularity was whisky, of which 29,268 gallons were imported. Gins and Cocktails were a good third, 17,653 gallons being imported, as compared with 14,636 gallons of foreign brandy and 1,078 gallons of Empire brandy.

Port Wine (6,192 gallons), Sherry (4,432 gallons), and Vermouth (4,130 gallons) were next in order of favouritism.

Hongkong people seemingly do not care for their tots of Rum, for only 3,169 gallons were imported.

Less Champagne Now

Imports of champagne slumped badly compared with previous years, only 1,983 gallons going into bond. The duty on this quantity, however, was as much as that paid for almost twice as much rum, and exceeded the duty paid on Sherries.

The duty collected for European Type liquors was $952,774, while the total duty collected on all type of liquor amounted to $2,239,533. This represents a decrease of $211,322 compared with the 1933.

Illicit distilleries continued to give Excise officers trouble during last year, despite frequent raids. Many respectable houses in Kowloon were, when raided, found to be elaborate distilleries, turning out illicit native beverages, brewed chiefly from rice.

SERVICE TO SHANGHAI
VIA CANTONWILL PROVIDE LINK
WITH WORLD

In less than two months it will be possible for Hongkong telephone subscribers to speak to 32,000,000 telephone users in other parts of the world, or approximately 93 per cent. of the telephones in use.

On the Double Tenth—

October 10—the Shanghai-Canton radio telephone service will provide Hongkong with the necessary link for communicating by phone with the outside world.

The equipment is already installed in Canton, and tests will be carried out with Shanghai in the near future. British equipment is being used.

Shanghai is already in telephonic communication with all parts of the world, as is Manila.

Canton will possibly utilise both channels for its service. It will also link up with the existing low-power radio-telephone station at Macao, at present used for broadcasting purposes.

SUICIDE DRAMA

Lieutenant Derek Webber, formerly of Hongkong, who left a letter addressed to a Miss Doreen in Hongkong before committing suicide in Suva.

Hongkong will be linked to the Canton station by the ordinary trunk line telephone service, owned by the Hongkong Telephone Company.

Practically every country in the world, including Australia, India, Japan, South Africa, New Zealand, North and South America, Great Britain and the continent of Europe, will be brought in touch with the Colony.

No definite information is yet available regarding the proposed scale of charges, but it is thought they will be in the vicinity of $15 a minute for Shanghai and Manila and $5 a minute for Macao, plus trunk line fees from Hongkong to Canton.

The scale of charges from Manila and Shanghai to various centres in the world is as follows:

	First 3 mins.	Each Min.
France with Monrovia	$32.00	$810.00
Java	12.00	4.00
Portugal	35.25	11.65
Australia	68.42	21.00
U. Britain, Ireland	32.45	10.84
Germany	30.00	10.00
United States (avg)	35.00	11.25
Norway	32.75	10.95

H.K. Police
Still Face
Old ProblemKOWLOON IS CHIEF
DUMPING PLACE
FOR DEAD

Dead Chinese bodies are dumped in the streets and harbour of Hongkong with a regularity and persistence that, so far, has defeated every effort of the Police Department to prevent this gruesome habit.

KOWLOON has long since been the dumping ground of parents whose children have died, or of others who, for one reason or another, prefer dumping their dead to burying or taken them to the Mortuary.

Last year over a thousand bodies were dumped in various parts of Hongkong, chiefly in Kowloon, where 679 bodies were discovered.

Only 22 of the bodies were adults, the remainder being children, of whom 561 were male, 444 female and 26 unknown. Three of the adult dead were women.

6,441 In Five Years

Since the beginning of 1930, a total of 6,441 bodies have been found by the Police in the streets and elsewhere in the Colony. Of these, the appalling total of 6,102 have been the bodies of unwanted children.

In an effort to decrease the evil the Police Department some years ago constructed special boxes into which the bodies could be left. Few, however, availed themselves of the opportunity of obtaining free burial for their dead.

As compared with this total of 6,102 discovered on the mainland, only 289 were found on the island and, more strangely still in view of the large water population, only 27 bodies were discovered in the harbour.

Actually, last year's total of 1,056 bodies represents a substantial decrease over 1934, when 1,347 bodies were discovered, 881 of this total being in Kowloon.

WHICH NOISE
ANNOYS MOST?STAR FERRY WHISTLE
OR MOTORISTS' SIRENS

Which noise annoys most? Some people would unhesitatingly say it is the nerve-shattering rivetting machine used in such buildings as the Hongkong & Shanghai Bank. Some Hongkong motor cars and the Star Ferry whistle are also irritating offenders. They would be surprised to hear that inside the average airplane cabin the din is even worse.

Scientists have now invented a "noise thermometer" which registers intensity of sound as the ordinary thermometer records degrees of heat.

On this "noise thermometer" the sound of a whisper heard five feet away is 10. The noise in a railway carriage with the window open is 60, a road drill 90, an aeroplane cabin 100.

But the biggest noise of all known to science is that of heavy gunfire—10,000,000,000 times louder than a whisper, and a hundred times louder than a roaring lion five feet away.

CINEMA NEWS

NOTES FROM THE THEATRES

Following on the sensational success of Jan Kiepura's last picture, "Tell me To-night," "My Song For You," coming soon to the Queen's Theatre, should meet with considerable interest, particularly as he is again partnered by the irrepressible Sonnie Hale, who acts the role of manager to Gatti, the famous tenor (Jan Kiepura) with an excellent sense of comedy. A number of scenes take place in the South of France, lending a charming background to the story. The film opens with a shot of Jan Kiepura, as Gatti coming aboard his yacht in the Mediterranean, singing the lovely melody from which the film gets its title. Later we hear Kiepura sing excerpts from "Aida" and during a wedding in church he sings the "Ave Maria." "My Song For You" is a delightful medley of song, laughter and romance and a film that will definitely appeal to all classes of filmgoers. Also in the cast with Jan Kiepura and Sonnie Hale are Allison Maresca, Reginald Smith, Emily Williams and Muriel George. Maurice Elvey directed.

Since he had become both producer and director, Norman Foster has lost some of his regard for movie actors. Called back to Hollywood to appear in "Minor Motion," which arrives on Wednesday at the King's Theatre, Foster is now eagerly looking forward to his return to Tahiti. There he will complete the undersea motion picture in which he already has $15,000 invested. "Actors? Not so hot," he says. "Always late on the set, never satisfied. My leading lady, a native of Papeete, had beautiful long black hair. Half way through the picture she became angry; why, I don't know. Anyway, the next morning she reported for work with bobbed hair. She had cut it off just to get even."

"Kiss and Make-Up" is a bright and frivolous romantic comedy about a handsome beauty doctor who fell victim to a synthetic beauty of his own creation with unexpected consequences. "Kiss and Make-Up," featuring Cary Grant, Genevieve Tobin, Helen Mack and Edward Everett Horton, is now playing at the Star Theatre. It is a B. P. Schulberg-Paramount production. In the leading roles, Grant as the beauty doctor, and Miss Tobin as the artificial Venus, prove to be one of the most attractive romantic comedy teams the screen has offered in some time. Miss Mack justifies Paramount's choice of her as a future star, by a spontaneous and intelligent performance, and Edward Everett Horton—well, is there anyone you would rather see than Horton? The picture is the art directorial effort of Harlan Thompson, writer and Broadway producer, and merits, for that reason, more than usual praise for its general excellence. He was assisted by Jean Negulesco, famous painter, and Hans Dreier, who designed the stunning modern interiors. Thirteen charming young misses, the Baby Wampus Stars of 1934 are cast in speaking roles, and Mona Marie, Lucien Littlefield, Doris Lloyd and Toby Wing deserve special mention for their acting in the principal supporting roles.

"The Queen's Affairs" For the first time in British film history a romantic co-starring team is being sponsored by a British film studio. The combination of Anna Neagle and Fernand Gragny, won such praise in "Bitter Sweet" that there was an immediate call for more pictures introducing them together. "The Queen's Affairs" is the first picture to answer this demand. It is to have a special presentation at the Oriental Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday. Miss Neagle has been brought, to a peak of stardom by careful grooming—part of which process has consisted of a judicious "mixing" of her roles. Now she appears as a regal and commanding figure, familiar with the life of New York and Paris, called back from her travels abroad to assume a throne—a young and beautiful queen, cultured, sophisticated and witty. So, with Fernand Gragny, from the romantic Victorian music master of "Bitter Sweet" he becomes the forceful, active, humorous young President who falls in love with the Queen he has despised when, ignorant of her true identity, he met her at a holiday resort.

"Paris in Spring" There's still time for you to get your spring tonic and romance, gaiety and laughter, at the Queen's Theatre to-day, where "Paris in Spring" is showing. Filmdom's first lady of song, Mary Ellis, and its new romantic sensation, Tullio Carminati, are the important persons involved in this delightful and well-told story of a quadrangle of romance. Because Mary Ellis doesn't pay enough attention to him, Carminati threatens to jump off the Eiffel Tower. Ida Lupino has the same idea because of romantic complications with James Blakeley. But, instead of jumping this mad-cap pair get together and start out on a wild whirl in the night life of Paris. Their respective sweethearts become jealous, police accuse Carminati of kidnapping Miss Lupino and there's a mad chase that winds up at the mansion of the Grand-mama. Grand-mama shuts up the incorrectly paired couples in different rooms and after a hilarious night of romantic comedy, the loving couples are brought together again.

"The Countess of Monte Cristo" There have been few motion picture directors, going to the United States from Europe, who have become so thoroughly acclimatised to American film production methods as Karl Freund, Universal director, who made "The Countess of Monte Cristo," showing to-day at the King's Theatre. Recognised as a foremost authority on unusual photography, Freund, strangely enough, believes trick camera work has become a lost art. With the advent of talking pictures it is dialogue that is most important, contends Freund, who is very candid in his opinion that motion pictures

NON-STOP REVUE

NEW PROGRAMME DELIGHTS

The popularity which the Door-lay Tropical Express Non-Stop Revue has gained with the local public was further cemented yesterday when they presented a change of programme to appreciative audiences in the afternoon and night performances at the King's Theatre.

The outstanding contribution was undoubtedly the "Living Marble" number in which girls posed in tableaux reproducing world-famous masterpieces, including the scene of the death of Cleopatra. The lighting was effective and the presentation was executed with much skill.

Lin Tui-tsein, the Shanghai man, delighted the audience with a couple of clever tricks with a coil of rope and eight steel rings. He also repeated his daring feat of swinging in the air by his hair and diving through a hollow square spiked with sharp knives.

Frank Kunkel, Ruth Hasse and Maria May once again held the audience spellbound with their breath-taking perch acts, while Fred Gordon, the cowboy, whirled a rope most expertly.

Versay, the comedian with "rubber" legs, kept the audience in roars of laughter with his antics and frolics.

"Trip Around the World" was presented by the Doorlay girls, who displayed amazing speed in the change of national costumes behind the scenes. No sooner had the first five dancers appeared as Scotland than they returned as Holland and so on. Ten girls kept the number going at a great pace.

Go and see the show and forget the depression!—C.I.R.E.

are as yet far from the perfection state. However, he does visualise greater strides and progress for the animated screen in time goes by, principally through its own originality.

In "The Countess of Monte Cristo" Freund is right at home. The delightful continental background of this comedy-drama is one he knows well. Fay Wray and Paul Lukas head the featured cast in this film, which includes Patsy Kelly, Paul Page, Reginald Owen, John Sheehan, Robert McWade and others.

Read Your Health In The Palm Of Your Hand.

Stretch the hand out flat and look at the colouring which lies just beneath the outer skin. If you are in good health the flesh will be a mottled rosy pink. Should the pink tones appear pale, the probability is that your blood lacks haemoglobin (red colouring) and red corpuscles.

Here is the reason why many people are not exactly well; some are really ill. The blood carries life force and nutriment to every part of the body. If the blood is low in haemoglobin and red corpuscles, the person is more or less anaemic or "run-down" ... easily tired ... lacking in vitality ... perhaps close to serious sickness.

Fortunately the vitality of the blood can be increased in the majority of cases, as was proved in a special clinic of 40 persons whose haemoglobin and red corpuscles were low. Under competent direction these patients took a 30-day treatment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Blood tests taken before and after treatment demonstrated conclusively in the microscope how this excellent remedy had built up the vitality of the blood and restored health and vigour.

If your palm or your feelings tell you your blood is not up to normal, try a 30-day treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You, too, will probably experience the same pick-up in general health and the same gain in strength and vitality as were observed in the persons forming the clinic. Health is precious. Let Dr. Williams' Pink Pills help you keep it. This tested remedy has amply proved its restorative qualities. Of chemists everywhere.

THE BANISHEE PROBLEM

In commenting recently upon the banishee problem, we raised a doubt as to whether imprisonment of returned deportees really deters them from coming back to the Colony. Since that time, official figures have been issued showing the numbers sent away and the numbers arrested on their return. It is difficult to assess the value of these figures, because, in the first instance, the banisheses returning within a given period may not be the same ones as those deported during that period; and, secondly, because the total arrests give no clue to the number who have actually returned. Only when cases come into Court and the records of the deportees are disclosed is it possible to reach any conclusion as to the efficacy of imprisonment as a deterrent. In this connection, it is of interest to note a batch of cases dealt with at the recent Criminal Sessions. These disclosed that one man had returned to the Colony no fewer than ten times since 1920, another six times since 1925, and yet another five times since 1926. These instances do at any rate suggest that sending offenders to gaol does not discourage them from coming back again. They are cited as typical cases, and they could be greatly added to from Criminal Sessions records. In each of the cases quoted, the offender was sent to prison for three years, there to be maintained at the cost of the Government. How many years these three men have spent in gaol altogether, and at what cost, we are unable to say. But the point which we desire to stress is that imprisonment is no solution of the problem. It was for this reason that we suggested recently that apprehended banisheses should merely be brought before the Court for identification, and then be sent away again. We concede that this also is no solution of the problem, and that the men concerned would in all likelihood return, but, as we have shown, even imprisonment does not keep them out of the Colony once they are released. If it can be shown that fewer would return so long as the imprisonment system continues, then the cost and trouble involved might be justified, but that has yet to be determined. One way of reaching some more definite conclusion would be to

NOTES OF THE DAY

EXAMPLES IN PROGRESS

In Great Britain, in the process of industrial recovery there appear to be few or no setbacks. It is a steady movement, based on definite and progressive improvement in trade. One record comes from 2072 industrial concerns which show profits as at the end of March 31 last 19.15 per cent, above those for the corresponding period of 1933-34. Another batch of companies, numbering 694, report net profits for their financial quarter 17.8 per cent, over those for the same quarter last year. The progress being made does not apply to any limited number of industrial firms; it embraces all. The iron, steel and coal industries show an improvement estimated at 85.4 per cent. Telegraphs and telephones improved by 41.2 per cent. In their financial returns; shipping improved 35.5 per cent; canals and docks, 45.5 per cent; rubber, 29.2 per cent; trusts, 24.6 per cent; hotels and restaurants, 12.9 per cent. Great Britain has set an example to the world in the same way of promoting recovery. She has balanced her budget by the principle of economy. So great is the confidence reposed in her financial measures that London has again become the money market of the world. The marvel is that so few countries have responded to her example. One, however, that did was Australia. Now Australia, having received and put into practice British advice, has a balanced budget, a trade surplus, and in successive years has reduced her Federal income tax and removed a number of nuisance taxes. Recovery in Great Britain and Australia has not been by the medium of vast expenditures of public money. The countries do not believe in pulling themselves up by their bootstraps. There has been reality, not artificiality, in their policies.

THE AERIAL CURL

Another reason has been found for making the British people pin-headed. One who for twenty years had suffered from a succession of colds writes that since four years ago he took to flying in an open cockpit machine he has had only one very mild attack of the malady that used to make his life a misery. Here, then, is hope at last for the conquest of the common cold, the need for a concerted campaign against which is so often talked about, without anything being done. As mankind takes more and more to the air, the ravages of the most characteristic disease of civilisation will diminish, and whenever one feels a cold coming on, it will be no longer fashionable to dose oneself with aspirin or lemon; it will suffice to take an immediate hop into the empyrean, returning to earth well rid of all microbial encumbrances. It is well known that Arctic explorers never catch colds—until they are so foolish as to return to civilisation, or when they open some package that they have taken with them from home. This indicates, as does the experience of the man with a passion for open cockpits, that it is not cold that causes colds, but the impure atmospheric conditions under which many of us live. Colds are less frequent in summer because ventilation is then at its best, as is the tone of the human organism. In winter conditions present an absolute contrast to this; but even in winter it is possible to do oneself more harm than good by fleeing from every suggestion of a draught and revelling in fetid air. Perhaps, as the health of the people becomes more and more thoroughly supervised by the State, we shall find all victims of the common cold divided into specially conducted parties for compulsory trips into the upper air. The person with a cold is a menace to his fellows, but what to do with him, when he will not betake himself to bed, is a problem that has hitherto baffled all who have to associate with him. The day may not be far distant when it will be possible to convey all germs of the common cold to the stratosphere and ruthlessly leave them there.

take the individual records of those arrested and strike a percentage therefrom of the number of occasions on which these men have come back again. Even better, would be to give a trial to the system we have suggested; it would then be possible to make a fair comparison. We have less hesitancy in putting forward this latter proposal than we otherwise would have from the fact that the great majority of the returned banisheses are not hardened criminals, but mostly revenue offenders. Thus, if it so happened that they returned in larger numbers, no great harm to the security of the public would be occasioned whilst the experiment was being given a trial. Only by such method would it be possible to assess the value or otherwise of imprisonment as a deterrent.

TWO GREAT JUBILEE
SEASONSBY THE COUNTESS OF OXFORD AND ASQUITH

The Palace Garden Party recently saw the coronation of the greatest London season since the year 1897; and though our King and Queen have inspired, inaugurated, and attended every public parade with meticulous grace and energy, I think the triumph of their personal popularity will compensate them for any feeling they may have of fatigue. Health depends largely upon happiness, and the happiness of this London Jubilee season has rejuvenated the youth, health, and spirit of the whole nation as well as added to her prosperity. There has been, however, so much talked and written about war that to those who cling to the clouds before the silver lining I would recommend a few reflections on the events of this great London season.

In Jubilee week I motored about in the poorest parts of London and saw little flags fluttering from overcrowded flats and derelict houses, whose inhabitants had probably sacrificed a meal to buy them. They did not look upon it as a duty or a sacrifice, they anticipated the occasion as one for enjoyment, and I never saw so much gaiety in the streets as I witnessed that week.

There has seldom been a season in which there have been so many local ceremonies, so much private entertaining, and such perfect public order.

Millions of seats were sold to see the royal procession, millions stood in the streets for endless hours, thousands collected nightly round Buckingham Palace in the hopes which were not disappointed of seeing their Sovereigns acknowledge their cheers from the floodlit balcony of the palace. And yet not a tulip was trampled on, not a person was injured, and not a railing was bent.

I was moved to the core by the wonderful demonstrations of devotion, loyalty, and enthusiasm, coupled with the astonishing public order of the crowds. You can organise everything in the lives of citizens if you have sufficient officials, barriers, soldiers, regulations, and detectives, but you can never organise love; and every Monarch, President, Emperor, and Dictator must have envied our King this year.

The last great London season I saw was in 1897, when Queen Victoria celebrated her Diamond Jubilee, and a greater contrast to this season can hardly be imagined. Everything was on a far grander scale.

The great houses in London had not been turned into hotels, neither had those in the country been turned into asylums. The Prince and Princess, of Wales, who represented the widowed Queen, adored society.

They patronised the Russian Ballet, went to plays and operas, and entertained on a large and lavish scale. But the standard of living among the poorer classes was far lower than it is to-day.

Though there was less unemployment—because the sea was covered with our ships carrying a vast export trade to foreign countries—hours were long and wages were low, and Labour was not organised.

In March 1897 it was officially announced that the Queen would go in procession to St. Paul's Cathedral on June 22 to attend the Service of Thanksgiving in honour of her Diamond Jubilee.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, as Colonial Secretary, thought the celebrations should be of an Imperial character, and all the Colonial Premiers and troops serving within the Empire accepted the invitations to attend.

The most distinguished of the Colonial Premiers was Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with whom, after my marriage, my husband and I made a lasting friendship. As far as I can remember, every crowned head in Europe took part in the royal procession, as well as the turbaned Indian Princes for whom Queen Victoria always had a special affection.

At 11 a.m. on June 22, 1897, a gun in Hyde Park was fired to announce that the Queen had left the palace, but before leaving she had transmitted a message to her subjects in all parts of the Empire: "From my heart I thank my beloved people. May God bless them."

Were I asked what moved me most in this London season I would quote a sentence from his Majesty's speech on receiving the loyal congratulations of Parliament in Westminster Hall on the 9th of May: "In these days when fear and preparation for war are again astir in the world, let us be thankful that quiet government and peace prevail over so large a part of the earth's surface, and that under our flag of freedom so many millions eat their daily bread, in distant lands and climates, with none to make them afraid."

JAPAN'S DENIAL ABOUT MANDATED ISLANDS

Geneva, Aug. 25. The Japanese Government has submitted its annual report regarding the administration of its mandated islands. The report contains a denial that military and naval bases exist on the islands and gives details of expenditure on the ports and harbours in an effort to silence the persistent rumours that the islands are prepared naval bases.—United Press.

U.S. Manoeuvres

Pine Camp, N. Y., Aug. 25. Hostilities in the greatest peacetime army manoeuvres ever held by the United States were temporarily halted to-day after the Red Forces, commanded by Major General William Durwood Connor, former Commander of the U.S. troops in China, routed the Blue Forces under Major General L. R. Holbrook, along a ten mile front. Over 36,000 troops were engaged in the mimic battle.—United Press.

NOW for a little luv story. The story of Ameller who had never luvved noboddy until one day.

Gazing out of the window she saw Derrick. A fine, handsome fellow like Clark Gable, clad in a white uniform, he was cycling along the Pimlico Road on a box-trike labelled "Stop Me and Try One."

Yes, he was a ice-cream salesman, and soon Ameller began to listen for his bike bell and his call: "They're luvly!" At the end of a week they were getting on so well together that Ameller was getting her Kreemy Kornets for nixes; and, on the Sunday mite they had a walk by the river.

Suddenly they became aware of a bald-headed old gentleman making noises like a startling-price bookmaker. It was Ameller's father.

"You scoundrel!" he roared. "How dare you make luv to my daughter? I know you—you ride a trike, selling Kreemy Kornets!"

"They're luvly!" said Derrick.

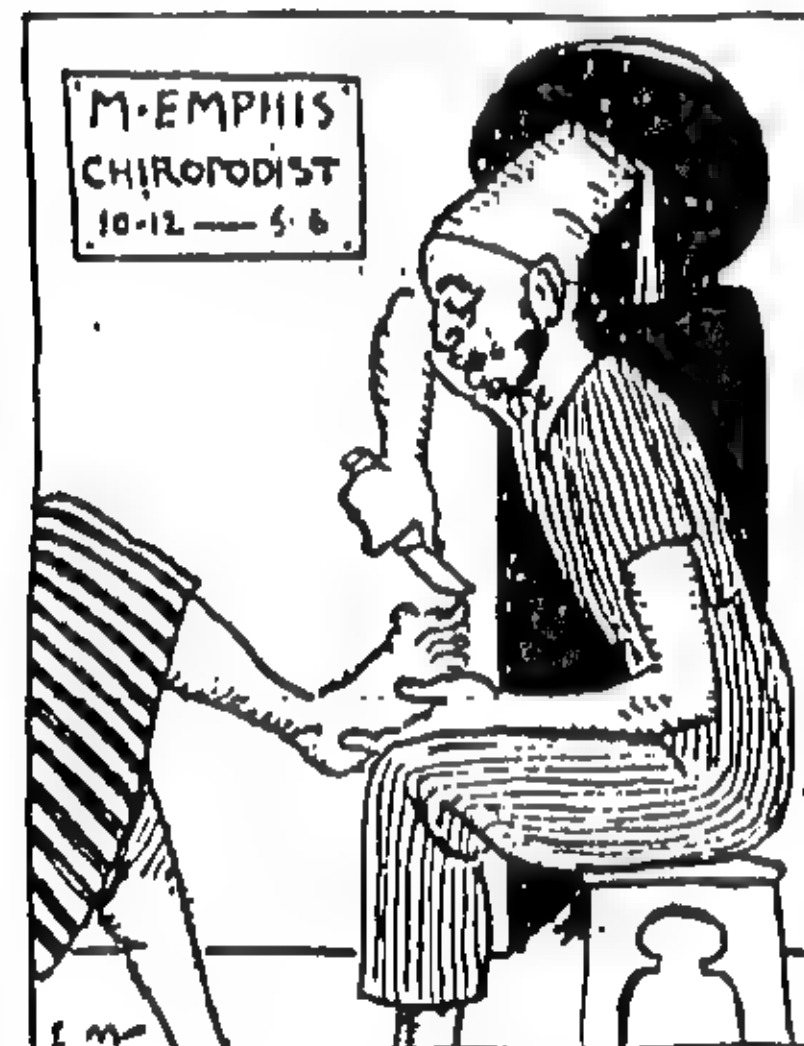

The old man turned to his daughter. "This must cease!" he ordered. "I'd sooner see you wedded to a jernalist than to this villen!"

"Stay!" cried Derrick, tearing off his false moustache as he spoke. "I am really a jernalist—I was only selling Kreemy Kornets in order to get material for a article!"

"Heaven bless you!" said the old man. "I suppose you have finished now?"

"Notterall," said Derrick. "I can make about three times as much out of Kreemy Kornets as I do jernalling—so I have decided to stick to selling Kreemy Kornets—They're luvly!"

And with a playfull push, he hurled the old man into the river.

DENVER TERROR

STARTS 21 FIRES IN FOUR DAYS

Denver, Colorado, Aug. 26. The mystery of a series of fires here during the last few days has, it is believed, been solved by the arrest of the 17 years old son of a doctor of Oakland, California.

The police allege that he has confessed to responsibility for 18 fires out of 21 started since Thursday.

On Saturday fires were started in the Municipal Art Gallery, the six million dollars City Hall and the Roman Catholic school. A daring youth dashed through the police cordon and escaped despite a hail of bullets, and then set fire to an office building in another part of the town.

The climax was reached yesterday when the washroom in the police station was set alight. The police traced the accused to a night club where they arrested him.—Reuter's Special Service.

Naval Views Show Wide Divergence

U.S. INACTIVE IN CONVERSATIONS

JAPANESE DEMANDS

(Special to "Telegraph")

Washington, Aug. 26. Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, today asserted that the United States is playing an inactive role in the diplomatic exchanges involving naval affairs, having no information regarding the British or Japanese proposals. Mr. Hull said while there had been the usual informal references to naval matters, there had been no formal communications either from Britain or Japan.

Other well-informed quarters here, acknowledging the wide divergence between the Japanese, British and American standpoints, express doubt as to whether any naval talk will be held in London in the near future if the Japanese insist on recognition of their parity demands which have been advanced as the basis of discussions. Reuter Special.

London, Aug. 26. The Japanese Embassy has received Japan's answer to Britain's memorandum of August 5 suggesting a preliminary Five-Power Naval Conference in London during October.

It is understood that the Japanese answer reiterates Japan's demand for tonnage parity with Britain and America, hence the plans for a preliminary talk are apparently jeopardized.

Observers in Washington understand that there is scant chance of the United States participating in any conversations in the near future. It is understood that London has not asked the United States to re-state its naval position, due to the fact that the American position in regard to policy regarding the present ratios is well known. United Press.

LADY SOUTHERN—AUTHORESS

Charming Studies of The East

"Under the Mosquito Curtain," by Bella Sidney Woolf (Lady Southern), published by Kelly and Walsh at $3.50, is a collection of twenty charming studies of the East, varied in theme and possessing distinct literary merit. Some are impressions, written with a deft touch, reflecting the observant eye and the discerning mind; others are stories, in the telling of which Lady Southern once again illustrates her flair for perceiving and committing to paper the unusual and the humour to be encountered in everyday life.

These little vignettes, mostly set in Hongkong and Ceylon, will appeal alike to the Far Easterner, who will realise their truth to life; and to those who are attracted by authentic sketches of Oriental life, and to whom the gift of such a little volume would make a most acceptable present. Attractively produced, "Under the Mosquito Curtain" can be warmly commended as the work of one who knows of what she writes and, above all, possesses the skill and talent of presenting her writing in an engaging form and investing them with that atmosphere which is so essential to literary efforts of this particular kind.

HONGKONG AMUSEMENTS WINDING-UP

At the Supreme Court this afternoon, Mr. Justice Lindell granted an application for the winding-up of Hongkong Amusements, Ltd.

Mr. R. C. Macnamara, instructed by Mr. H. J. Armstrong, of Deacons, appeared for the petitioner and said the grounds for the application were that the Company was hopelessly insolvent and owed debts all round.

Mr. R. C. H. Lim, instructed by Mr. C. E. Sanderson, of Russ and Co., appeared for the supporting creditors.

His Lordship, in granting the application, ordered that the costs of the supporting creditors be paid out of assets, if any.

EARL JELlicoe's COUSIN

DEATH OF SOCIAL WORKER

London, Aug. 26. The Rev. J. D. L. Jellicoe, cousin of Earl Jellicoe, who died on Saturday, aged 37 years, had been prominently associated with reforms in housing and other reforms in Somerset, a poor district of London, north of St. Pancras Station, which attracted attention both at home and overseas.

He organised the Public Utility Society, which rehoused a large number of slum dwellers in flats with gardens, trees, ponds and swimming for children, and other amenities, at rents not higher than those formerly paid by tenants, while giving a return on capital subscribed by practical philanthropists of 2½ per cent. on loan stock and 3 per cent. on ordinary shares.

The Rev. Mr. Jellicoe, who was curate of the parish until he moved last year to a curacy at St. Martin-in-the-Fields, also superintended local public houses rebuilt with roof garden restaurant and games facilities, and licensed for beer only. British Wireless.

DAY BY DAY NEWS IN BRIEF

"PERFORMING TO-DAY'S DUTIES WILL INSURE TO-MORROW'S OPPORTUNITIES." Dr. D. D. Tullie.

Young Lai, 40, widow, was fined $25 by Mr. Schofield in the Central Police Court this morning when he admitted a charge of keeping the second floor of 150 Wellington Street as a lodging for prostitutes. Sanitary Inspector B. Thompson presented.

The Hong Kong Travel Association, which welcomed with thanks the following subscriptions: Previously acknowledged, $2,500; The Hongkong & Shanghai Hotels, Ltd., $1,000; Messrs. Duncans, $100; Messrs. Lowe, Bingham & Matthews, $50; Mr. F. A. Joseph, $50.

N. Morgenstern, driver of private car No. 3122, appeared before Mr. W. Schofield, at the Central Magistrate's Court this morning, summoned for having driven his car without the front lights on in Hennessy Road on August 12 at 11.25 p.m. Traffic Sergeant Blackburn said the right front light was on, but the left was off. Defendant switched it on at his request. Mr. Schofield imposed a fine of $5.

A fine of $270 with the alternative of two months' hard labour was imposed upon Lai So, 27, unemployed, when he pleaded guilty before Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court this morning, to a charge of having possession of nine flocks of raw opium at the Kowloon-Canton Railway Station on Sunday last. Revenue Officer Browne stated that the opium was found concealed in the false bottom of a rattan suitcase. Li Sze, 38, unemployed, appeared on a charge of having possession 3½ flocks of raw opium at the same place and on the same day. He pleaded guilty and was fined $105, or, in default, five weeks' hard labour. In this case the opium was found hidden between the two bottom layers of a basket.

STILL BLOCKING ADJOURNMENT

ROOSEVELT AT WORK

(Special to "Telegraph")

Washington, Aug. 26. The Senate met at noon today and then went into recess until 5 p.m. Meanwhile President Roosevelt was in conference with Senators Byrnes, Harrison, Connally, Smith and Black. Later he was in conference with the Secretary of the Treasury, the Administrator of the A.A.A. and Mr. Paul Porter, the A.A.A. expert.

The House of Representatives met at noon also and passed a resolution to adjourn by midnight. This, however, is meaningless unless the Senate concurs. There was some talk of passing the third Deficiency Bill without the mandatory cotton and wheat loans, with the Administration promising to take up the question of the loans in the January session if the farmers are distressed.

However, the Speaker at the House, Mr. Joseph W. Byrnes, insisted that the mandatory loans would result in a further loss of world markets by the United States, and simultaneously accumulate a surplus which would hamper the domestic market. The Senate, however, insisted that the Deficiency Bill containing the Social Security appropriation would not be passed unless the mandatory wheat and cotton loans were also included.

It is worthy of note that the deadlock over this question is the sole remaining barrier before immediate adjournment. United Press.

HOUSE ADJOURNS

Washington, Aug. 26. The House of Representatives passed a resolution adjourning on day.

President Roosevelt is conferring with cotton Senators in an attempt to work out a formula which is to be put before the Senate to the cotton loan and permit both Houses to adjourn as soon as possible. The Senate went into recess for five hours pending negotiations with the leaders of the House to implement the President's talks with the Senators. Reuter.

A depression is forming in the China Sea about 100 miles to the east-south-east of Pratas. Local forecast: Westerly winds, moderate to fresh; fine at first, cloudy, probably some rain later.

NAVAL GUNNER POISONED

DISCOVERY ABOARD H.M.S. DELIGHT

Commissioned Gunner H. D. Jenner, of H.M.S. Delight, was found aboard his ship this morning suffering from the effects of poisoning, according to a report issued by the naval authorities this morning. When found, he was in a serious condition. Jenner was immediately rushed to the Royal Naval Hospital, where he was later reported to be out of danger. No information is available as to how he was poisoned.

An Overhead Protection of Solid Steel...

In addition to their beautiful new streamline styling—and their many features of comfort and convenience—Chevrolet's new Bodies, by Fisher introduce the most important structural improvement in the history of body building—

TURRET TOP CONSTRUCTION

This new improvement, exclusive to Chevrolet in its price class, gives Chevrolet bodies additional strength and safety. The entire roof of the new Chevrolet body consists of a solid sheet of seamless steel. This Turret-Top Roof is arched and reinforced by sturdy bows of heavy gauge metal to make even stronger—even safer—even more durable—and it is lined with a special heat-resisting material. The result is overhead protection far superior to anything heretofore offered the motoring public. SOLID STEEL FLOOR ends annoying floor board rattles.

EX-HONGKONG NAVAL OFFICER WINS AT WIMBLEDON

TENNIS TITLE GOES TO LIEUT. MUSPRATT

HOARE BEATEN IN SEMI-FINAL ROUND BY THE CHAMPION

AN UNEXPECTED BUT DESERVED WIN FOR THE NEW HOLDER

Lieut. W. D. F. B. Muspratt, who was stationed in Hongkong a couple of years ago, and who took part in local tennis and other sporting activities, is the new Royal Navy and Royal Marines Lawn Tennis champion, he having won the title at Wimbledon this month. In his passage to the final he eliminated Lieut. R. R. C. Hoare, another ex-Hongkong Naval officer. Lieut. Muspratt will be remembered as a competitor in the Open Mixed Doubles Championship organised by the Chinese R. C. two years ago.

(By H. S. Scrivener)

London, Aug. 2.

As was the case last year, some difficulty is being experienced in carrying through the Royal Navy and Royal Marines championships in the allotted three days. It was the challenge round of the Davis Cup that upset the Navy's appointment by claiming, as it had the right to do, the exclusive use of Wimbledon on the first two days of this week. Formerly, when our people had to go cup-hunt-

NO EXHIBITION TENNIS

Japanese Team's Short Stay

It was announced this morning by the Hon. Secretary of the Lawn Tennis Association (Mr. C. J. Tacchi) that it is impossible to stage an exhibition with the Japanese Davis Cup team which passes through on board the Hakone Maru en route to Japan from Europe.

The boat is due to arrive at daylight on Friday but latest advice from the N.Y.K. are that the steamer will sail at 3 o'clock and not at 5 o'clock as was originally thought.

ing to Paris, the Navy had five days in which to settle their differences. Yesterday the effort to reduce the least eight to two was frustrated by a long and exhausting match between Sgt. Li-Gir, Mookier and Sub. Li. Vayavayur. It would have been far better if this match could have been played in the morning, but, doubtless for some good and sufficient reason, it was not. It finished at 4.5 p.m., having lasted for about an hour and fifty minutes, and it would have been obviously inequitable to call upon Mookier, the winner, to play Cdr. (Continued on Page 9.)

A CENTURY DEBUT

CANTAB'S FEAT AT SHEFFIELD

P. A. GIBB MAKES 157 NOT OUT

London, July 30. P. A. Gibb, the Cambridge Blue, made history yesterday when he scored a century on his first appearance for Yorkshire—a feat which no other player, either amateur or professional, has achieved. He was playing against Notts at Sheffield.

Although he was missed behind the wicket when four, he gave no other chance until Larwood gave him another life at slip when 138. Gibb batted all told a little over four hours and his principal strokes were two 6's and eighteen 4's, says the News Chronicle. He made 158 not out in an innings of 421.

GIBB'S CENTURY

London, July 31.

Newspaper readers, especially of sporting news, have good memories, says the News Chronicle. Mr. P. A. Gibb, of West Norwood, writes with reference to P. A. Gibb's century for Yorkshire in his first innings for the county:

"You are wrong when you state that he is the first Yorkshireman to do this feat. C. Tyson on his debut for the county in 1921 scored a century (against Hampshire) in the first innings and 80 not out in the second."

Mr. Hawkswell is quite right. Gibb, therefore, is not the first player, but the first amateur to reach three figures on his debut for Yorkshire.

IN THEIR ANNUAL match with a team of Hongkong bowlers Wanstead were defeated for the first time last month. The two rinks are shown above.

PROPOSAL TO INVITE HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI TO COMPETE

EARLY NEXT YEAR

Manila, Aug. 21.

A proposal to invite Shanghai and Hongkong to participate in an interport tennis tournament in Manila next January or February will be taken up by the Philippine Islands Lawn Tennis Association at its meeting Friday. The proposal will be made in view of the fact that it is not certain whether the interport series which has been conducted between Shanghai and Hongkong will be held this year.

The Philippines applied for participation in the interport series over a year ago and the application was accepted. Recently, however, the P.I.L.T.A. officials, who at Oxford through the tennis officials of Hongkong requesting details of this year's competition and reply was received that the series will be held in Shanghai. Communication was addressed to the Shanghai officials but no reply was received.

Shanghai, however, previously advised P.I.L.T.A. officials that the competition this year would be held in Hongkong. P.I.L.T.A. officials believe that an interport organisation which would conduct an annual tennis series between Hongkong, Shanghai and Manila would serve to stir up a great deal of interest in tennis in this section of the world and would provide keen outside competition. Should the proposal to invite Shanghai and Hongkong to play here early next year be approved at Friday's meeting, invitations will be sent to those ports immediately so that they may make preparations.

AMERICANS LEAVE FOR HOME

SWIMMERS DEPART FROM JAPAN

GOOD IMPRESSION MADE

Yokohama, Aug. 22.

Fifteen of America's outstanding tank artists, headed by Coach Bob Kipphut of Yale left Japan to-day on their return trip home aboard the Tatsuta Maru.

The splashes were in Japan for over a fortnight.

Although defeated by Nippon's mighty swimming squad in a three-day meet at the Meiji Shrine pool, the Americans made deep impressions on Japanese sports followers.

Sports writers, following the conclusion of the meet, were unanimous in asserting that only the absence of several of the outstanding American stars kept them from winning.

The Meiji pool meet was the only competition engaged in by the Americans although they gave two exhibitions.

LOVELOCK BEATEN

HIS SECOND DEFEAT BY S. C. WOODERSON

ATTACK ON MILE RECORD

(By FRED DARTNELL)

London, Aug. 5.

There were memorable scenes on Saturday at the Glasgow Rangers' big sports meeting. Over 50,000 spectators at Ibrox Park saw Jack Lovelock beaten for the second time this season by S. C. Wooderson.

Three weeks ago, Wooderson had wrested Lovelock's British mile championship from him at the White City. At the A.A.A. dinner after the meeting Lovelock made a graceful acknowledgment of Wooderson's triumph, but added that it would never occur again.

The implied threat failed to come off in the race specially framed to enable either Wooderson or Lovelock to break the latter's British record of 4 min. 12 sec. and a half. Lovelock, however, was the victor, running from scratch, won the race, which went to A. V. Reeve of the Poly, who off the 25 yards mark returned 4 min. 10½ sec. time good enough to suggest that he would have been troubling the scratch men if he had started level with them.

Kiddie, the Scottish champion, who had 35 yards start, was second in 4 min. 11 sec., but so far as the huge crowd was concerned the real race was between Wooderson and Lovelock, who finished third and fourth in 4 min. 12.7-10 sec. and 4 min. 13.5-5 sec. respectively. Grab of nearly 20 yards separated the two stars at the finish.

Wooderson failed by 7-10 sec. to equal Lovelock's British record, but he beat the New Zealanders' Scottish all-comers' record of 4 min. 13.2-5 sec., which was achieved at the Rangers' meeting two years ago.

I thought Lovelock seemed a trifle anxious and restless before the start, but Wooderson, an astonishingly grave person for one of his years, was ideally composed.

The first lap was covered in 61-1-5 sec. by Lovelock, who found Wooderson reversing his usual policy of making the pace. This time Wooderson hung on closely to his great rival and at the half-mile (2 min. 7-1-10 sec.) he was still dogging like fate the flying heels of the man who was out for revenge. Lovelock's thoughts might well be imagined as he raced away.

SUPREME EFFORT

We waited breathlessly for the crisis.

Suddenly, 200 yards from home, Wooderson lashed his blow. Coming towards the finish he shot away like an arrow to gain a couple of yards lead. As he passed Lovelock the latter threw a half-startled glance at his rival and a second or two later made a supreme effort to turn the tables.

Lovelock's face was deathly white and his expression was drawn as he forced himself to the shoulders of Wooderson. He could do no better, but the Blackheath lad did not lengthen his stride and swept through to the end, complete master of the man he had dethroned from the championship.

Lovelock who at 2st. 6lb. weighs a stone more than Wooderson, was well beaten, but he made no excuses. In congratulating Wooderson he said: "I had had a fortnight's rest and had tried to build myself up, but it was no use, you were too good!"

FIRST TEAM TO WIN ESPLAN CUP

ENGLISHMEN MAY VISIT COLONY

TO REGAIN THE TROPHY

London, Aug. 3. A team of members of the Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association, for the first time gained a victory over Wanstead Bowling Club in the annual match for the "Esplan" Cup, on Friday evening, winning by 16 shots to 14 shots.

The match was played on the Wanstead Green.

It was the sixth annual match played between the two clubs, and the fourth in which the "Esplan" Cup has been competed for.

VISITORS ENTERTAINED

After the match, the visitors, together with their ladies, were entertained to supper in the Golf Club house which was once more kindly lent by Wanstead Golf Club.

Mr. William Stuart, president of Wanstead Bowling Club, welcomed the visitors on behalf of the club, and remarked that it was always pleased to welcome the Hongkong team.

This year, for the first time, the visitors were going to take the cup back to Hongkong, and he was glad that they had an opportunity of doing so.

It had been a very enjoyable game and he thought that it might offer an opportunity to some of the most well-to-do Wanstead members to visit Hongkong and re-capture the cup.

Mr. Stewart handed the cup to Mr. S. Randle, skip of the Hongkong bowlers.

Mr. Randle, in reply, thanked the members of the Wanstead Club for their hospitality.

He only wished that more Hongkong members could have been present to witness the match.

Mr. Randle remarked that he was under the impression that the cup was given for annual competition at the Wanstead Club only.

THANKS TO MR. A. MCNEISH

In conclusion, he referred to the work of Mr. A. McNeish, who always helped considerably in organising the match.

Three other members of the Hongkong team, Mr. J. F. Lunny, Mr. G. E. Elliot-Hayward and Dr. V. N. Atienza, all spoke briefly, and thanked the Wanstead Club for their warm welcome.

Mr. Roberto Leeder, honorary secretary of the Wanstead Club, proposed the toast of "The Ladies," and gave a short account of the matches that had been played with Hongkong for the "Esplan" Cup.

The trophy was given in 1931 by Mr. James J. Esplan, O.B.E., who was president of the club at that time, after Mr. McNeish had brought some Hongkong visitors to Wanstead to play bowls, and the cup had been competed for each year since then.

The scores were: Hongkong: Messrs. Marks, Lunny, Atienza and Randle (skip) 16; Wanstead: Messrs. F. Curtis, R. L. Leeder, A. Love and W. Nichols (skip) 14.—The Express and Independent.

ALLISON AND VAN RYN SECURE TITLE

BEAT MAKO AND BUDGE

U.S. TENNIS FINAL

Brookline, Aug. 26.

Gene Mako and Donald Budge, the youthful American Lawn Tennis combination, fully justified their reputation of being the second best doubles pair in the United States when they extended the Wimbledon runners-up, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, in the final of the U. S. Doubles Championships to-day.

In many quarters Mako and Budge are considered an even better combination than America's Davis Cup doubles team as they have previously beaten, not only Allison and Van Ryn, but also L. R. Stofen and G. M. Lott, Wimbledon champions of a year ago.

To-day's match went to the full five sets before the winners were able to claim the title. The scores were 6-4, 6-2, 3-6, 2-5, 6-1.—Reuter.

The match is, between L. A. R. Duncan and R. Duncan, of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club, and M. J. Medina and J. Cavanagh, of the Craigengower C.C.

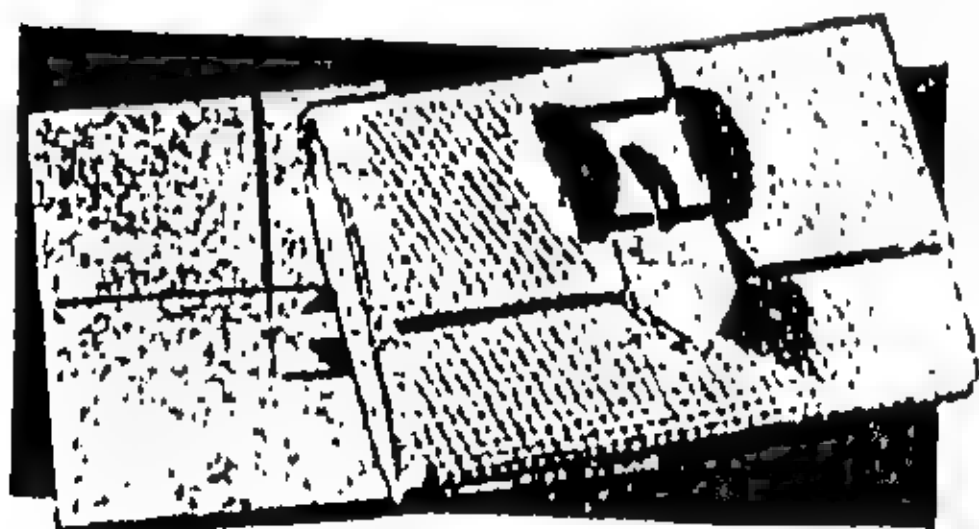

The fixture has accordingly been re-arranged for next Tuesday and will be played on the Civil Service C.C. green, commencing at 4.30 p.m.

REPORT ON MANOEUVRES

Bolzano, Aug. 26.
Signor Mussolini to-day re-

Under-Secretary for War, who reported upon the progress of the

He said the morale of the troops was excellent. They were working most efficiently, especially in the mechanized mobile divi-

The King of Italy arrived at the "front" before dawn to-day. He stopped his car several times to

THREAT FROM SEA

Rome, Aug. 26.
According to newspaper reports,
Rear Admiral Ciano has tele-

London, Aug. 26.
In accordance with plans made conditions, which was announced in Parliament when the Estimates were presented early this year, the usual garrisoning arrangements in peace-time provide for married men to be accompanied, if desired by their wives and children, and in the present case about eighty families with sail with the men on the Neurula.

The transport is expected back at Southampton by October 2 to take her place with other four ing to London to-morrow and will remain at work at the Foreign Office until the League meetings take them to Geneva next month.

Pressure of business will not allow Sir Samuel Hoare to go to the meeting of the Council on September 4, when Mr. Eden will be the British representative, but the Foreign Secretary will reach Geneva in time for the opening of the Assembly, at which, as already

DESPERATE APPEAL

Copenhagen, Aug. 26.
A dramatic wireless distress call out of the Arctic—"We die if help not sent"—has been received here.

It comes, it is believed, from four men adrift in an open boat in the Far North sea, without food or fuel. They are a cinema photographer, a wireless operator and two seal-hunters.

The four men wintered in Northeast Greenland and should have returned to the more hospitable coast this summer. However, they were unable to reach the "outside" in time to catch the relief ship sent to meet them. The relief ship, moreover, was held back by ice.

A few days ago the men left the seal-hunter's station in an attempt to make their way through open water to the vicinity of the relief ship. They are now hemmed in by rotten ice, unable to move one way or another and,
which is worse, unable to travel over the ice. They are literally imprisoned in a semi-frozen ocean.

RESCUE EFFORTS

It is reported that the British expedition ship, Quest, which is off the coast of Greenland, somewhere in the vicinity of the lost travellers, will make an effort to reach them.

The Danish Government has sent a seaplane out to hunt for them and a Norwegian trawler is trying to establish communications.—Reuter.

BRITISH SCHOOL PROGRESS

REORGANISATION IN HAND

London, Aug. 26.
According to the report of the Board of Education, just issued, the total number of children attending public elementary schools last year was 5,676,762, and there were 448, 421 in secondary schools.

Steady progress has been made with the reorganisation of the elementary school system, which has been proceeding for some years on the lines of the Hadow Report on the Education of the Adolescent, which has been accepted as the policy of the Board, and considerable progress has also been made during the year by local authorities in the replacement of old and the provision of new premises.

During the last nine months of 1934, the Board approved building proposals involving capital expenditure of £4,449,212, which is greater by £885,078 than the total approved for the full financial year 1933-1934.

ASSASSIN CONFESSES

KILLED COLONEL
LIU TSO-CHOW

Peking, Aug. 27.
The apprehension of a suspect in Luansien District on August 21 has helped to solve the mystery surrounding the assassination of Colonel Liu Tso-chow, Commander of a body of Chinese Public Safety Guards.

An official communique issued by the Chinese authorities last evening states that the arrested man gave his name as Li Chinhua, aged twenty-five, and confessed that he was the assassin of Colonel Liu Tso-chow.

He is being detained at the Public Guard Headquarters at Luansien.
According to the communique, the man pleaded that the crime he committed was entirely due to personal resentment against Colonel Liu as he was once the subordinate of the latter and was dismissed by him without any reason.—Special.

SCHOOLMASTER CHARGED

PARTNER ALLEGES
EMBEZZLEMENT

Cheng Tik-ming, a schoolmaster, appeared before Mr. Wynne-Jones
this morning at the Kowloon Magistracy and was remanded for seven days, on an allegation that, being a member of a co-partnership with Chan Cheung-ling, 30, schoolmistress, he did on various dates between April 1 and August 15, embezzle sums of money amounting to $54 belonging to the partnership.

Mr. M. A. da Silva appeared for the prosecution, while Mr. G. S.
Hugh-Jones, of Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist, appeared for the defendant.

Mr. Silva stated that a school was opened with the partnership of complainant and the defendant on April 1, and it was agreed that during the first term defendant would have charge of accounts and money received. At the end of the term on August 6, defendant handed over a complete account for that term and signed it with his own name. Complainant began to check these accounts and found discrepancies. Receipts had been issued to pupils for three items of various amounts which had no corresponding counterfoil in the receipt book.

From August 6, notices were posted up that complainant would receive "all accounts and receipts would be issued bearing the cheques of both complainant and defendant. Defendant, however, collected various accounts and used only his own chop, and complainant found that he had collected from 40 pupils for which she had no account. The total sum unaccounted for amounted to between $100 to $500.

Bail in the sum of $200 was allowed.
